CANNON USED IN 1620 BABE RUTH OUT OF GAME

British Government Makes Home Run King Confined to Bed With An Attack of Grippie

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Two ancient cannon used in England about the time the Mayflower sailed in 1620 were delivered to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company at exercises at the navy yard today. They are the gift of the British government and will be set up in the old fort which is being restored on Burial Hill, Plymouth, in connection with the tercentenary of the Pilgrims' landing.

The cannon are of the same style as those brought over on the Mayflower, which were used to guard the approaches to Plymouth colony. Rear-Admiral Albert Clive, made the formal transfer of the navy yard today and the guns were accepted by Captain George H. Hudson, commander of the ancients.

OPIUM RESORT KEEPER IN POLICE COURT

Willie Wong, a local laundryman, was fined $50 by Judge Enright in the district court this morning after he pleaded guilty to charges of smoking opium and keeping an opium resort. He paid the assessment.

Officer Conroy presented to the court a pipe and an assortment of tiny boxes of dope said to have been found in a room occupied by the defendant on Merrimack street when the police vice squad raided his premises last Saturday night. Wong, according to the police, was found lying in bed peacefully smoking an opium pipe. A search of the room resulted in the seizure of a small quantity of dope contained in small boxes.

DELAY ARRAIGNMENT OF A. W. TWITCHELL

DOVER, Me., Sept. 29.—The arraignment of Allen A. Twitchell of Phillipsfield, charged with the murder of William Campbell, a woodsman at North-east Carry, Moosehead Lake, Saturday night, set for today, has been deferred. He probably will be taken into court tomorrow.

Request of Construction Co. to Close Bridge Temporarily Will Be Refused By Municipal Council

The Engineering Service Construction company has lost out in its request to the municipal council to have the Central bridge closed to traffic during the remainder of the time necessary to complete repairs on the bridge. While the order would not technically close the bridge to all traffic, only one sidewalk and a car line would be available, leaving vehicular traffic out of consideration. While the matter has not yet come before the council, a letter presented at a conference between parties interested held today in the aldermanic council chambers, from the city engineering department, indicates the company's request will not be granted.

OLD LANDMARK IS WIPED OUT BY FIRE

One of the oldest landmarks of the town of Dracut was wiped out by fire this forenoon when the home and three barns on the old Stickney estate off Willard street, about a half mile from the Centre village, which were owned by J. A. Malle, a former resident of this city, were burned to the ground. A calf was burned to death, farming implements and several tons of hay were destroyed. Members of the family with the assistance of firemen and neighbors managed to save the furniture from the home. The loss is estimated at several thousand dollars.

The fire started in the main barn and when it was discovered the flames were shooting through the roof of the building. An alarm was quickly sent in for the Centre department, but when the firefighters arrived the building was a mass of flames.

Man Alleged to Have Destroyed Cloth In Mill Is Beaten Up By Watchman and Later Arrested

Woolen cloth worth about $5000 was cut to such an extent as to be rendered almost worthless and a long and fierce battle between the watchman and a man suspected of having committed the deed, later arrested, followed in the Muskequid mills, of the United States Worsted company, on Howe street early this morning.

Although the discovery of the destroyed cloth was not made until the mill hands started to work, Louis Whipple, the man suspected of having tampered with the cloth, was placed under arrest at 5.30 o'clock, about half an hour after he was discovered hiding in the mill.

Whipple, according to Superintendent Arthur J. Wicks of the mill, was formerly employed at the works as a night watchman and had been discharged.

Shortly after five o'clock Watchman Joyce, who succeeded Whipple in that job about three years ago, as he was making his usual night rounds discovered Whipple on the top floor of the building.

The latter, according to the watchman, was tampering with the cloth, was Continued on Page 18

Note Reiterates Previous Stand—Invites Sinn Fein Leaders to Conference

De Valera and Griffith Study Note—Answer May Be Drafted Today

Sinn Fein Leaders Agreeably Surprised—Expected to Accept Invitation

LONDON, Sept. 29. (By the Associated Press.)—Leaders of the Irish Sinn Fein have been invited to take part in a conference in this city on Oct. 11 in the note despatched to Eamon de Valera by Prime Minister Lloyd George. This communication was despatched early today, and was considered to be the British government's final word in the exchange of messages between London and Dublin.

Mr. Lloyd George informed Mr. de Valera, however, that the British government was not prepared to accept the proposals offered by the Sinn Fein for repeal of the corporation tax, and retention of the other taxes.

Other proposals offered by the Sinn Fein for repeal of the freight and passenger transportation taxes and the $2000 exemption allowed to corporations, and that persons whose net income exceeded $20,000 a year be not entitled to the normal exemptions allowed single men, married men and to heads of families on account of dependents.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The element of mystery that imparts interest in "Dangerous Love" which is being given this week at the Merrimack Square Theatre is one of the several interesting elements that makes the offering a genuinely good one. It is not until a few minutes before the final curtain that the ultimate outcome is apparent to the average patron, and this makes it wonderfully enjoyable entertainment. Next time the meritorious production that is being given during the week-end will be "The Great Game." This is a play that will be remembered for years to come. The play is a masterpiece of the art of drama. It is a play that will be remembered for years to come. The play is a masterpiece of the art of drama.

THE STRAND

Eugene O'Brien in a new Selznick picture, "Is Life Worth Living," is the feature picture announced for the week-end program at the Strand, starting today. In it the star appears as a chap who has barely avoided going to prison on a false charge of theft and feels that, although he has been acquitted by the court, a damning stigma has been left on his name, and that many of the avenues to earning an honest living have been forever closed to him. The result of his efforts to reestablish himself in the social and business world are so discouraging that, in desperation, he plans his own destruction. See the rest and know what happens.

NEW LAKEVIEW PARK

Tonight, the sweet strains of torpedoes, chorale melody will be heard. Lakeview's placid waters, and in the brightly illuminated hall will be seen thousands of dancers enjoying the poetry of motion as it is produced only under the spell of ideal conditions. Miner-Doyle's orchestra will be the medium of melody. Lakeview's other attractions will be in full swing. Never let blind passion or hasty temper spoil your sense of proportion or dull your better judgment. That is the moral of "Short Skirts," the second feature on the bill, and in between Portsmouth and Norfolk. The will have a span of 1550 feet between towers. A proposed high level bridge between Portsmouth and Norfolk. The will have a span of 1550 feet between towers.

Fourth and Second Last Chapter in Tale of Bill Hart's Pinto Pony

"HAD TO JUMP OFF A CLIFF INTO A RIVER."

By BILL HART'S PINTO PONY
(Copyright, 1921, by Wm. S. Hart)
When I got over my bad fall from the log, the boss, he said to me: "Paint, kin you swim?" An I said, "Swim? What's that?" an' a bunch o' the boys 'standin' 'round' said, "You're up agin' it this time, Bill!" But Bill didn't let on like he noticed 'em at all an' kept right on talkin' to me. An' he said, "You know what a river is, don't you, Paint?" And I said, "You bet," an' he said, "Well, that's what swim means. You got to jump into a river an' swim out." An' Gee! how I did chuckle inside.
Why, swim wuz my middle name, but all I said, wuz, "Boss if any reward could win me back to pictures, you've named it. I like to git wet," an' the boys, not understandin' my humor, laughed agin'.

Why, up in Nevada I didn't only belong in lakes an' rivers, I wuz married to 'em. But right here—I got in digress, or whatever that big word is—for awhile, just to tell you about my early life, Kite, an' you, too, Mule. Years an' years ago there wuz a big war. We Americans all got foolish an' got fightin' each other. Think of it—all one family an' fightin'. There wuz a great general in that war named Grant, an' one big Arab King there, he sent a big present to General Grant, a Arab hoss—what Grant rode in the war.
An' when the fightin' wuz all over an' everybody said they wuz sorry, General Grant he sent Red Top—that's what he named the hoss—to a friend o' his out in Nevada.
This Mr. Nevada man owned the whole country when wuz full o' wild hosses an' tame hosses, too. An' so—

Are You Running Down

and gradually losing your strength and vitality? Is your blood getting thin, and are you becoming nervous, and when you get up in the morning, are you as tired as when you went to bed? These are symptoms of neurasthenia, and deranged stomach. The frequent causes of this condition are overwork and worry.

First of all you must set your stomach to right, and correct the serious disturbances, such as indigestion, constipation, and at the same time flush the kidneys and make the liver active. To accomplish this result—you cannot take a more reliable and better remedy than the good old standby, SEVEN BARKS made from the extracts of roots and herbs. It has been recognized as a standard remedy for stomach, kidney and liver troubles for nearly 50 years.

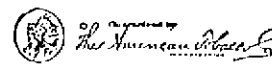

There is hardly a family but what some member is more or less frequently troubled with Biliousness, Indigestion, Liver or Kidney trouble. If you have never tried SEVEN BARKS do not fail to do so, and watch the wonderful results.
Get at the root of all stomach troubles by driving all poisons out of your system for good. You can do this by taking nature's remedy, SEVEN BARKS. One bottle at a small cost will prove its value. Ask your nearest druggist for it today.—Adv.

FIRE WRECKS PARIS DEPARTMENT STORE

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—Fire that burned from early morning until the middle of the afternoon destroyed all but the walls of the new Magasin au Printemps, a department store building covering an entire block 200 by 250 feet and valued at 25,000,000 francs, with a stock estimated at 50,000,000 francs. The loss is fully covered by insurance. Two thousand persons were employed in the store, which was in the heart of the business district of Paris, on the boulevard Haussmann, where streets converge from the Gare St. Lazare and the Madeleine Opera.

RUSSIA NOT TO ASK NEW CREDITS

GENEVA, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Recommendation that the assembly of the League of Nations appeal to its members for credits to Russia will not be made, by the Russian relief committee, it was announced here today. The matter of securing funds for Russia and the organization of relief measures, will be left entirely to the conference to be held in Brussels soon, and to welfare organizations. The reason given for this decision by the committee was that various governments had found it impossible to open new credits at this time.

When the assembly opened this morning, Mlle. Kristina Hennrich of Norway took the floor and said she had received full power to sign the new white slave trade convention which was approved by the committee having that subject under consideration.

Romance and Riches Figure in a Dispute Over a Copper Mine

THIS IS RAINBOW HALLIDAY—ALICE CALHOUN—HEROINE OF A DRAMMA IN WHICH HER LOVE AND THE OWNERSHIP OF A MINE ARE AT STAKE.

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Rainbow Halliday is a girl who owns a rich copper mine. Or rather she thinks she owns it.
She meets the handsome George Standish. He owns the mine, but she doesn't know it.
She learns to love Standish, and when she finds he is engaged to another girl—and she simultaneously learns that the mine morally belongs to him—she is willing to sacrifice both love and riches.
Then the "other woman" steps in. And there is jealousy and bitterness. And Rainbow changes her mind and flings out the mine. And in the end Standish realizes which is the "right girl."
That's the story of Alice Calhoun's newest film vehicle.
Miss Calhoun is starred as "Rainbow Halliday" in the picture, "Rainbow." That is her name and it is also the name of the mine.
It is a story of the conflict between love and riches.
In it Miss Calhoun has the opportunity to display her art in the sudden transformation from the girl of the mining town, who knows nothing of the splendors of cities and the lure of fine clothes to the beautiful young woman of the city.

As the little country girl she had been treated like a child by Standish. Here was an unrequited love, and when she discovers that the copper mine her father had left her really belonged to him, she was unselfish enough to wish him to have it to make him happy.

But she didn't bargain for the cold, callous Estelle Jackson—the woman Standish was to marry. Nor the three old friends of her father—who were her foster "daddies." The former was going to take the mine away from Rainbow, and the latter were determined she should keep it.

Everything ends happily when Standish comes seeking her, not to force his claim to the disputed mine, but to ask her to marry him.
In the picture, which is released by Vitaphone, Jack Reach plays the part of Standish, Cecil Kern is Estelle, and William Gross, Charles Kent and Tom O'Malley are the foster "daddies."

Movies: 55 Per Cent
Would you pay $5 to see a movie? That's the price charged at the world premiere of "Peter Ibbetson," the first picture of the De Munnier novel, at the Hotel Plaza in New York. The $5-showing was arranged for the Paramount and the Film Mutual Benevolent fund, an organization which throws open the homes of prominent society people as locations for pictures made in and around New York. Fees charged for these locations are contributed to Anne Morgan's American committee for devastated New York, and the maternity center of New York. Proceeds of the "Peter Ibbetson" premiere go to the same charities.

Where All the Marks Go
Is Germany broke? Not as far as motion pictures are concerned. According to "Lightbulb," the capital invested in the German film industry last January 1 was $3,751,000 marks. And on July 1 the amount had risen to 122,035,500 marks.

Cinegrams
Ann Forest is in France filming "Love's Boomerang."
Thomas Meighan's next vehicle will be "A Proxie Daddy."
Pearl White has finished the Fox picture "Open Your Eyes."
Henry Arthur Jones' "Beyond," starring Ethel Clayton, is out.

Mary Pickford, says of rumor, has bought back motion picture rights to "Fess of the Storm Country," one of her early successes.
Gloria Davenport, daughter of the late Homer Davenport, famous cartoonist, has a role in Rex Ingram's film, "Turn to the Right."

Nazimova is going to try her talents in film production, her first step being the production of Oscar Wilde's "Salome" and Ibsen's "A Doll's House."

PRIZE DANCING AT THE KASINO

All indications point to a great crowd at the Kasino tonight when the children of Lowell and vicinity meet in a championship waltz. These little tots have been in the eyes of the people for several months and no little friendly rivalry has sprung up. The culmination of this rivalry will take place tonight when, under the auspices of the Lowell Printing Pressmen, they meet and compete for prizes and amateur championship of Lowell. Campbell's orchestra, which has been playing wonderful music all summer, will play for general dancing and for the contest. Mr. Thomas Carlin will entertain with many songs.

AL DIAMOND BUSY
Al Diamond, the crack Lowell flyweight, has been silent for two nights. On Friday night at the Hunter Point club Diamond boxed Manny Wexler ten rounds, and the following Thursday night at the Cambridge S.C. of York, N.Y., he boxed Ruddy Young of Yorkers in ten rounds.
Since Diamond has placed himself under the management of Lou Briz, he has been kept very busy.

HUNTER COULDN'T WORK FULL TIME

WAS CONSTANTLY LOSING TIME BUT FEELS SO FINE NOW HE NEVER MISSES A DAY

"My health used to be so bad that it was just all I could do to drag myself on to work in the morning, but since taking Tanlac I can work hard all day and still feel rested when night comes," said George N. Hunter, 38 Nelson St., Springfield, Mass.
"About a year ago I noticed my strength was leaving me, and I soon got to where I could hardly finish my day's work. My appetite was very poor, almost nothing to eat was enough for me, and I began to lose weight. I had had attacks of indigestion, especially at night, and I never felt hungry. I got to where I never felt hungry, and was often so weak and dizzy everything seemed to spin around me, and I could hardly stand up. I had fierce headaches and was constantly losing time from my work."
"Well, I was under special treatment twice, but Tanlac was the only thing that helped me. I'm now eating my three big meals every day and never feel a touch of indigestion. I've gained several pounds in weight, all my aches and pains have left me and I feel better and stronger than I have in a long time. Tanlac is really wonderful, and I gladly praise it to everybody."
Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; A. D. Falls, Chelmsford, Mass.; S. H. Phelan, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

WILL VISIT CEMETERY

C.M.A.C. Members Will Make Pilgrimage to St. Joseph's Cemetery

The annual pilgrimage of the members of the C.M.A.C. to St. Joseph's cemetery will be held next Sunday and, as in previous years, the affair will be conducted on a large scale. The afternoon's program will consist of a procession from the hall of the association in Pawtucket street to St. Joseph's church in Lee street, where a Libera will be chanted, the church service to be followed by a ride on special electric cars to the cemetery, where appropriate exercises will be held.

The members of the C.M.A.C. will assemble at their hall at 12.30 o'clock and at 1 o'clock, headed by Marshal Albert Simard and Assistant Marshal Herve Genest, the men will march to the church via Merrimack street, the United States Carriage Co. barge to furnish the ride. At the church a Libera will be chanted by Rev. L. G. Bachand, O.M.I., chaplain of the association, and a special musical program will be given by the choir under the direction of Telephore Malo.

Upon leaving the church the pilgrims will board special electric cars in John street and will journey to the St. Joseph's cemetery, where they will be met by the Rev. L. G. Bachand, O.M.I., of Notre Dame de Lourdes church and former rector of the Ottawa university. Prayers will be recited for the deceased members and a volley will be fired by a squad of ex-servicemen, all members of the association, commanded by Lieut. George Paquin.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of the following: Frank Cayer, chairman; Albert Simard, Herve Genest, Isidore Tetreault, Romeo Lozeau and Joseph A. N. Chretien, ex-officio.

FOOTBALL CHALLENGE
The Try-a-Dogpound football squad challenges the Wannanacets for a game Sunday afternoon at 2.30 on the North common. The challenge is accepted. The game will be between 6.30 and 6 p.m. The following players will report for practice: O'Brien, Ash, McKillop, Pappas, Troville, Gintian, Fadden, Mearns, and O'Brien. O'Brien, Linehan, O'Leary and Reark on the North common tonight at 6 o'clock. Football to challenge any 120-pound football squad in the city of outside the city.

Greater Prosperity

Than Ever Before

Us, Says Davis

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 21—The greatest prosperity ever is just around the corner, Secretary of Labor Davis declared today.

"It will not be a return to normal but a sweep beyond that to the highest pitch of good times," Davis said. "I can see the greatest era of prosperity the United States has ever known near at hand. We are on the verge of it."

Davis was scheduled to address the annual convention of the American Insurance Union here tonight. He is an official of the union.

ARBUCKLE OUT ON $5000 BAIL

Murder Charge Dropped, But Movie Comedian Is Held for Manslaughter

Judge Sees No Evidence of Murder—Regrets All Evidence Not Presented

District Attorney Moves to Start Trial on Manslaughter Charge in Few Days

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, at liberty today on $5000 bond after a two weeks' preliminary hearing on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, will be tried on a charge of manslaughter within a few days. It is present plans of Matthew Brady, district attorney, to materialize.

Two such charges are pending against Arbuckle—one being placed yesterday when at the conclusion of the hearing before Sylvian J. Lazarus, police judge, the murder charge was

Arbuckle regained his freedom shortly after the preliminary hearing was ended. He already had on deposit $5000 bail in connection with the indictment and this was transferred to cover the proceedings arising from Mrs. Delmont's complaint. On the grand jury accusation he was placed "on his own recognizance" to return Oct. 3.

Brady Attacks Judge

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE

it to bring Arbuckle to trial on the Delmont complaint, as modified yesterday by Judge Lazarus.

The district attorney in a long statement last night said that Judge Lazarus had accorded Arbuckle's case unusual treatment and charged that "if Roscoe Arbuckle were unknown and unimportant, he would have been held for murder and treated precisely the same as were other defendants of disrepute."

While the formalities of bail were being arranged, Arbuckle went back to the City prison, where he has been for the last 18 days.

Coming out of his cell with an overflowing armful of clothing, his face took on a more cheerful look. After he had piled the clothes into a suitcase, newspaper photographers started to take pictures of him and a smile began to creep over his countenance. As a balloon-like cloud of flashlight smoke rose toward the ceiling he gazed toward it with almost a grin. "Roll a cigarette with one hand when we take the next snap," suggested one of the photographers. "I can't," he replied. "It's the other Arbuckle that does that."

Arbuckle remained in the prison for several minutes after his release, chatting with his brother, A. C. Arbuckle of this city. He did not announce his plans.

Women Rush to Shake His Hand
As court adjourned a dozen women rushed forward to shake Arbuckle's hand. As he went into the judge's chambers, his wife, Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle, collapsed, and he held her up and quieted her in an affectionate manner. Her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee, meanwhile smoothed the hair back from the comedian's forehead.

The well-known Arbuckle smile did not appear, however, and he merely said "Thank you" in response to the handshakes and greetings of "Congratulations, Roscoe," from various people.

The Judge's View of the Case

When the hearing was resumed yesterday Judge Lazarus began a discussion of the case.

"We need not disguise the fact that this is an important case," he said. "In my opinion we are not trying Roscoe Arbuckle alone, the screen celebrity who has given mirth to the world. We are, in a sense, trying ourselves, our morals, our present day social standing. The question is larger than the guilt of this unfortunate. It is a universal issue."

"The affair was the culmination of an orgy at one of our leading hostess. An orgy unexpressed by the management. I take it, a common thing in our big cities."

"I had really hoped that this court would be the avenue for full and complete revelation of all the facts, so the public of the entire world would have the opportunity to ascertain this widely known defendant's guilt or innocence."

"The testimony heard shows that during the whole afternoon there went on, let us charitably say, festivities. Men and women were coming and going so that witnesses were unable to say who were the occupants at any particular hour."

"Much liquor was drunk and the complaining witness in particular was in an inebriated condition."

No Sounds Heard By Others
"Miss Rappe, according to the picture I have tried to draw of the event, went into room 1219 of this hotel, followed without previous conversation, by the defendant."

"They remained in there about three-quarters of an hour, according to Miss Zeh Prevost's testimony. No sounds were heard by the rest of the party."

"Then the complaining witness and Miss Prevost made clamor at the door which was opened by the defendant, and the two ladies entered the room."

"They found Miss Rappe lying on a bed fully clothed and apparently in agony. She was clutching at her clothing and with the assistance of her women companions she was completely disrobed. I thought some of the torn garments might bear on the point at issue, but from the prosecution's own witnesses it appears they must have been torn in being removed."

Assistant District Attorney Golden interrupted with the assertion that the evidence showed one of the garments must have been torn off.

The court said he could not see any significance in certain other testimony introduced by the prosecution.

Only One Bruise Seen
"Photographs of bruises on Miss Rappe's body were introduced, but Dr. Arthur Beardslee, who attended her, saw only one on the arm. Undoubtedly if there had been others on the body he would have noticed them."

"Semacher's testimony was entirely valueless and two days of court time was taken in fruitless hearing him."

"The only one whose evidence might have connected the defendant with the commission of a crime was that of the nervous chambermaid, who heard from the corridor the cry of a woman, 'No, no, O my God,' and a man's reply, 'O, shut up!'"

"Although there were indications that the District Attorney at a trial would try to show a more complete case, there was the merest skeleton of evidence here to connect the defendant with the crime of murder, the most serious offense known in criminal law."

"The question for me to decide is whether the facts adduced, which the district attorney admits are barely enough to warrant a holding, are enough to justify a murder charge, and I do not believe so.

There is enough in the defendant's actions in the affair, however, to warrant a manslaughter charge, and I will hold him on this. I feel that no rape, or attempted rape, was committed by the defendant."

Assistant District Attorney U'Ren inquired what these other actions might be, and the judge replied that there might have been battery, for instance.

Duke d'Aosta, Cousin of Italian King, Violently Attacked by Rome Paper

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Violent attacks upon the Duke d'Aosta, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, by the newspaper Il Paese of Rome, has created a great sensation in that city, says a Rome despatch to the London Times. The newspaper charges the Duke with inspiring and protecting the Fascist, or extreme nationalists, and striving to gain the throne, with the support of certain generals and other officers.

DISCUSS CARELESSNESS AS FIRE BREAKS OUT

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Arthur H. Young, manager of industrial relations of the International Harvester Co., Chicago, was elected president of the National Safety Council yesterday. Other officers will be chosen at the next meeting of the executive committee.

While delegates to the convention were discussing means of preventing fires and accidents due to carelessness, in various sectional meetings yesterday, fire was discovered in the room at the hotel where the convention was being held. The fire, which started in the public utilities section of the council, the blaze, which state house officials said probably was caused by a match or cigar, burned the carpet slightly before it was extinguished by an attendant.

Safety will be taught in the public schools of Syracuse and Rochester, N. Y., Cleveland and Detroit, as well as continued in St. Louis, advised received by the council from those cities said today.

POLICE LOOKING FOR STOLEN AUTOS

The Reo automobile of Mr. Bennie Rostler, stolen from a parking space on Merrimack street at about nine o'clock last night, has not been recovered and the police are searching for several young men who were seen loitering about the machine shortly before its disappearance. Mr. Rostler was attending a show when the car was taken.

The police are also looking for a Ford automobile reported stolen in Manchester, N. H., last night, and thought by the police of that city to be on its way here.

Charles Pangos, of 453 Market st., notified the police today that several boys stole an automobile jack and a coat vest from his car while he was working at changing a tire on Hurd street last night.

Five Large Collieries in Northern England to Close in Near Future

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Five large collieries in northern England have given notice that they will close in the near future, Wilbur J. Page, commercial attaché at London, cabled today. The properties include the Redheugh, Lintyngren, Gatesfield, Ellington and Ravensworth. The action of the mine owners is attributed to the chaotic condition of the markets. More than 50,000 miners are thrown out of work.

MOTOR REGISTRY TO BE MOVED NOV. 1

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—In spite of the opposition of automobile owners and the 300 clerks affected, the governor's council yesterday refused to rescind its previous action in approving the plans for transfer of the motor vehicle registry from the state house to Commonwealth pier.

After the council gave its preliminary approval two weeks ago, a storm of protest arose. The clerks in the registry threatened to strike if the change was put through, and held to that position in the face of all arguments presented as to the benefits of the change. Later the clerks were backed up by the Bay State Automobile Association and affiliated organizations.

Adventures of the Twins

TUB GOES FREE

"I BELIEVE THEY SERVE YOU UP AT HOTELS WITH A RICH SAUCE."

All this time Nancy and Nick were tugging at the net in which they had caught Tub Terrapin, and now they started to swim away with him through Briny ocean, to hang the big net back on the hooks on the pound-poles from which they had taken it. But Cap'n Pennywinkle stopped them. "Hold on, hold on, kiddies!" he commanded, waving his stick. "I'll have to hear more of Tub Terrapin's story before I hurry him off where Mr. Fisherman can get him. You know, Tub, don't you, that Mr. Fisherman has been trying to get a hold of you for a month of Sundays? He can sell you for $25, as you are very special. I believe they serve you at hotels with a rich sauce and you are considered quite delicious."

Tub shivered. "Yes," he admitted. "I know it. And I was trying to get Mr. Fisherman's mind off me, by doing him a favor."

"How could you do him a favor by lying here like a ton of coal, right on top of Spike Starfish?"

"Because Mr. Fisherman doesn't like Spike," nodded Tubby. "And if you'll take my word for it and let me go, I'll come back in a month and show you why."

"Very well!" replied the fairy policeman. "So be it! Kiddies, let Tub out and take home the net. Then come back and help me get this stupid old swordfish out of trouble as fast as you can. You know he struck his long sharp nose right through the trunk of a seaweed tree."

BURNING AUTO MYSTERY SOLVED

George Trott of 43 West Fourth street has notified the police of this city and Billerica that he was the operator of the National touring car that was burned on a road near the pumping station in Billerica Centre early yesterday morning. He stated that he was on his way to summon the fire department in another automobile when the firemen went to the scene by another route answering a call by telephone sent in by somebody in the neighborhood. The automobile, which was completely destroyed above the frame, was the property of Ernest F. Trott of 42 Fourth street, a brother of the driver. The Lowell authorities and Constable Livingston of Billerica were at a loss as to what to make of the fire yesterday, their opinion being that the car had either been stolen or set on fire purposely to collect insurance. Mr. Trott told the police he cannot account for the fire, other than the fact that the machine suddenly became stalled and burst into flames, he immediately jumping out and looking for somebody to help him combat the blaze as his efforts alone had proven fruitless.

FAILED TO RECOVER HER HEALTH AFTER INFLUENZA ATTACK

People who are still suffering from the effects of influenza will be interested in the experience of Mrs. William Saaphy, of No. 153 Oxford street, Portland, Maine.

"I had an attack of influenza two years ago this fall," says Mrs. Saaphy.
"Ever since that sickness I have been weak and run down. I tried many medicines but nothing seemed to give more than temporary help. I was tired
all the time, even after a night's sleep.
My heart was affected so that the slightest effort caused it to beat rapidly and this worried me a great deal, for I was almost convinced that I had some kind of heart trouble. My appetite was poor and my stomach was unsettled. I did not have any energy or ambition and my nerves were unstrung."
"My father had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with benefit and he was a firm believer in the remedy so I decided to try them. One week after I began taking the pills I was convinced that they were helping me so I kept on with the treatment. The violent, irregular beating of my heart no longer bothered me for now it seems to be quite normal again. I eat and sleep well and have gained strength and ambition. I strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to those who suffer from general debility."

—Adv.

ous literary names like De Maupassant,
Balzac and others.

of Guy de Maupassant's "The Orderly."
Its essence is in this paragraph:

BALLY-HO
Make a noise about De Maupassant
—he is a world-famous writer of short stories that have that pep and spice!
Of course he was—prior to his death
25 years ago!

It isn't necessary for advertising purposes, to make a noise about the fact that he spent the last year or so
of his life in the asylum.

Viewing "The Orderly," you find both "pep and spice." You also find the role of Jeanne—the unhappy wife
of a colonel who secretly loves a captain in the capable hands of Madame Nathalie Kovanko, the Russian actress.

An elderly colonel promises a dying
friend to take care of her daughter.
When the girl is old enough he suggests marriage and she consents, not for love but in gratitude.

Then she meets a handsome young captain. There are many secret meetings, but at each the amiable Phillips, the colonel's orderly, is spying.

The orderly offers to carry her letters to her lover. Thus she puts herself in his power. And the orderly, making advantage of this, tells the faithless wife that he loves her, too, and if she repulses him he will betray
her secret to the colonel.

"Tell me the name of my wife's lover,"
he demands.
"Quickly, his name!"
A second time the orderly hesitates
—and is lost.

Now what do you suppose happens then? He shoots the traitor, making everybody as happy as possible under the circumstances.

ESKIMOS LIKE CHARLIE
Charlie Chaplin is the Eskimos' hero,
says Robert Brunton: "When a Chap-
lin picture is shown at Nome, Alaska,
the news spreads among the Eskimos,
and fathers and mothers with their children and papooses come into town from the ice fields. They pay the admission price, but refuse to enter the theater. They insist on standing at the entrance to watch the performance. None ever cracks a snail while the picture is on. They sit through after it over, spending ten minutes laughing and slapping each other on the back."

ADVERTISING GENIUS
A motion picture advertising genius compels patrons of a Washington barber shop to read his wares. He bought the rights to the ceiling and then pasted a poster advertising his latest movie smash directly over each chair.

FORD-NEWBERRY ELECTION CASE

Opinions Conflicting Along

Party Lines Presented By Committee Members

Republicans Clear New-
bury Of All Charges—
Democrats Condemn Him

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Opinions
conflicting along party lines were presented today by the majority and minority members of the senate privileges and elections committee on the Ford-Newberry 1918 senatorial election contest from Michigan.

The majority report cleared Senator
Truman H. Newberry, the republican candidate, of corruption and all other charges, and recommended that he be legally seated. The democratic members, on the contrary, asserted that Senator Newberry was elected by "corrupt and illegal methods and practices"
and recommended that his seat be declared vacant.

With the filing of the reports the case now goes to the senate for final decision which will probably not be made for several weeks. In the meantime, it is understood, Senator Newberry will not attend the senate sessions.

On only two major issues were the republican and democratic members in the reports at odds today. They agreed that Henry Ford, the democratic contestant, had not been elected and was not entitled to the seat from Michigan. They also agreed that too much money had been spent in the Michigan primary. The democrats, however, contended that Newberry was responsible personally for the expenditures while the republicans held he was not.

Majority Report

Recommendations of the majority report submitted by Senators Spencer, Missouri, who conducted the committee investigation and recount, were:
"1.—That the contest of Henry Ford against Truman H. Newberry be,
and it is hereby, dismissed."

"2.—That Truman H. Newberry is hereby declared to be a duly elected senator from the state of Michigan for the term of six years commencing on the fourth day of March, 1919."

"3.—That his qualification for a seat in the senate of the United States, to which he has been elected, has been conclusively established, and the
made against him in this proceeding,
both as to his election and qualification, are not sustained."

Minority Report

Conclusions of the minority, presented by Senator Pomerene, democrat,
Ohio, and signed also by Senators King,
Utah, and Ashurst of Arizona, were:
"1.—That the regular committee complained of did not relate to the general election, but to the primary. Henry Ford did not receive a plurality of the votes cast at the general election. We therefore find that the petitioner, Henry Ford, was not elected and is not entitled to a seat in the senate of the United States."

"2.—We find that under the facts and circumstances of this case corrupt and illegal methods and practices were employed at the primary election and that Truman H. Newberry violated the corrupt practices act and the primary act
of the state of Michigan, and that by reason thereof, he ought not to have or hold a seat in the senate of the United States and that he is not the duly elected senator from the state of Michigan for the term of six years commencing on the fourth day of March, 1919, and we recommend, therefore, that his seat
be declared vacant."

A separate minority report also was submitted by Senator Ashurst, who declared Senator Newberry's credentials were "stained by fraud and tainted by illegal expenditures of money." The testimony showed, he said, that the 1918 Michigan campaign "partook more of the character of an auction than an election."

Claims of Mr. Ford to the Michigan seat were denied by both majority and minority members on the same grounds
—that all charges against Sen. Newberry related to the primary and not to the general election and that it was established conclusively that in the general election, Sen. Newberry received a majority of the votes. Mr.
Ford's charges of bribery, illegal voting, undue influence and intimidation of voters in the general election was declared by the majority to be without foundation."

AT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Referendum No. 4 is on and the polls were open bright and early this morning when the mail men came aflood with letters from the chamber of commerce, addressed to members and containing ballots that read
as follows:

"Question:—Do you favor the establishment of a municipal gas plant in Lowell either by construction of such a plant or by purchase of the Lowell
Gas Light company's plant? (Yes)
(No.) Make a cross after Yes or No, detach and return to the chamber of commerce in the enclosed envelope on or before Tuesday, October 4, 1921.

Votes are expected to come in tonight and tomorrow in goodly number. At noon no replies had been received to the chamber's request, and some fear was expressed that some members might not forward ballots
for fear their actual opinion of the merits of the municipal ownership plan might be made known before they had really decided upon the best course to take in making a final decision. However, as the ballots do not call for name signatures, it is hoped that every member of the chamber will respond to the committee's request for votes, as it is absolutely necessary to secure the organization's position upon the initiative petition.

number of early entries in the $200
prize photograph contest before closing the competition, which has been extended one month. The list to date is very satisfactory and many of the photographs sent in show splendid individual work and attention to details. The chamber, however, wants more entrants and pictures, and amateur photographers are urged to send in their photographs of Lowell
and vicinity as soon as possible.

The highest one-piece structure in the world is said to be the new 66-foot wireless tower at Tokyo, Japan.
An air service line is under consideration for use of the diamond mines of the Kongo region, South Africa.

COMMITTEE TO FIND JOBS FOR BAY STATE MEN

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Announcement
was made yesterday afternoon by Gov.
Cox of the names of those who will constitute the Massachusetts committee to promote employment. In making public the list the governor's office stated that acceptances had been received from all whose names are given.

It will be the purpose of this committee to endeavor to meet the problem caused by the lack of employment
of a large number of men and women of the state. The date of the first meeting of the committee has not yet been decided upon. It will probably come early next week, according to H.
A. MacDonald, secretary to Governor
Cox.

A greater part of the committee are residents of this city or vicinity. The committee includes:

Howard Conoley, chairman; State
Treasurer James Jackson, secretary;
Cardinal O'Connell, Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, Rabbi Samuel J. Abrams of Brookline, Mayor Andrew J. Peters,
Charles A. Andrews, Mrs. Charles
Sumner Bird, William M. Butler of
New Bedford, Arthur B. Chapin, Gen.
Charles H. Cole, state commander
of the American Legion; Richard K.
Conant, commissioner of public welfare; Henry S. Dennison of Framing-
ham, Carl Dreyfus, J. S. Driscoll,
James T. Duane, Mrs. George Fearing,
R. G. Fessenden, Mrs. Susan FitzGerald, Paul E. Fitzpatrick, John W.
Hallowell, P. Harry Jennings, Martin
T. Joyce, George H. Lyman, Walter
E. Meigs, John P. Miller, Everett
Morse, F. Nathaniel Perkins, Richard
H. Rice of Lynn, Mrs. Saverio Romano, Mrs. Francis E. Slattery, Daniel
A. Sullivan, Joseph M. Sullivan, Gen.
Leroy E. Sweetser, commissioner of labor and industries; William F.
Whiting of Holyoke, Robert P. Wight
and Robert A. Woods.

Replies to Gov. Cox's letter urging mayors of cities, selection of towns
and county commissioners to start needed public improvements to give work to the unemployed, were made public yesterday afternoon by H. A.
MacDonald, secretary to the governor.
The tone of the letters reveals the fact that the governor's suggestion has borne fruit.

STRIKE OF R.R. MEN NOT CERTAIN DESPITE VOTE

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—While counting
of the strike ballots of 186,000 members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen will not be completed until late today, there seemed no doubt in the minds of union officials today as to how the men stood.

Notwithstanding this attitude on the part of the men, it was stated that a strike was in no wise certain.
The general committees will decide on a strike and they are not bound to abide by the vote of the members.

TAKE A TIP FROM HARDING!

If the number of important personages at the national unemployment conference mounts for anything, the number of jobless ought to drop. These four men are leaders at the conference. Left to right, they are Secretary of Labor, Davis, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Charles M. Schwab, steel capitalist.

NO LAW OF GRAVITATION: LOWELL MAN GETS BACK

Wilbur G. Voliva Demonstrates His Disbelief in Newton's Theory

ZION, Ill., Sept. 29.—With a book, a toy balloon, a brick and a feather, Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, last night demonstrated his disbelief in Newton's theory that objects fall because they are pulled, by gravity toward the center of the earth.

"There is no such thing as the 'law of gravitation,'" declared the successor to Alexander Dowie, who recently proclaimed the world flat and had no notion, in an address last night in Zion's Tabernacle.

"They write books on the 'law of gravitation,'" Voliva said. "There is no such thing. How is it that the law of gravitation can pull up a toy balloon and cannot pull up a brick? I throw this book up. Why doesn't it go on up? That book went up as far as the force behind it, and it fell because it was heavier than the air. Cut the string of a toy balloon. It rises to a certain height, and then it begins to settle. I take this feather, finally it begins to come down. The brick goes up as far as the force forces it up through the air and then it comes down. That is all."

HOUSE IN CANADA

One of 100 of 150 Merrimack street, this city, has received notification from the superior court at Three Rivers, Que., to the effect that a verdict has been rendered in his favor in the suit brought against him by Arthur Gellinas, a resident of Three Rivers. The case had been dragging in court for the past four years. According to the verdict Mr. Gellinas is ordered to pay all expenses of the trial as well as $10 a month for the four years he has lived in Mr. Deziel's house in the Canadian city as well as pay all taxes and water rates for the said building for the past four years. The suit began to settle the ownership of the house numbered 10 St. George street, Three Rivers.

The story of the case is as follows: Four years ago Mr. Deziel purchased a piece of real estate at Three Rivers from Maxine Gellinas and paid cash for the property. Shortly afterwards, he it was claimed, Mr. Gellinas received the same house and land to Arthur Gellinas. Later Mr. Deziel was informed of the second transaction and made a hurried trip to Canada to settle the matter. But the last purchase was claimed ownership and refused to relinquish any holdings on the property. About a month later Mr. Gellinas, the second purchaser, brought suit against Mr. Deziel and for four years the case has dragged in court. It was finally brought to trial a few weeks ago before Justice Duplessis of the superior court. Mr. Deziel being represented by Hon. Wilfrid Garneau, minister at Ottawa. Mr. Deziel made no less than seven trips to the Canadian city from the time that the case was called in court to the time it was brought to a close. It was learned today that Maxine Gellinas, who was accused of having made the transaction, died about two years ago.

WOMEN'S CLUB OPENS MILLINERY CLASSES

The millinery classes for members of the Women's Industrial club of the Massachusetts mills, were opened last evening in the quarters of the club in one of the mill buildings, and the registration was greater than expected. Although it had been intended that the maximum of the class should be 20 pupils, 21 young women registered and all insisted that their names remain on the membership roll. Mrs. Deziel, who secured such a big success with the class last year is again in charge and it is believed that under her direction the millinery lessons will be very beneficial to the young women. Classes will be held every Wednesday evening until the latter part of December.

REGISTRATION AT LINCOLN SCHOOL: Another registration session will be held at the Abraham Lincoln school tonight at 7 o'clock. Classes include millinery, dress-making, Americanization, etc. The latter is proving popular among the registrants. It gives them an opportunity to brush up on an article included in citizenship examinations for the lower grades.

FIND BODY IN CLOSET: CHINA'S DELEGATION ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

New York Detectives Hunt Couple Who Had Occupied Room

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Detectives today were trying to trace a couple known as Mr. and Mrs. Boulanger who, it is believed, lived for several days, unwittingly in a room where the body of a young woman friend—murdered—had been stored.

The body, packed away in newspapers, was found last night in a closet of a lodging house room the Boulangers had occupied. A cloth bag had been tied into the woman's mouth with a white stocking. The date of one of the newspapers, Sept. 21, is believed to fix the date of the murder. The Boulangers did not quit the room until last Monday—four days later, it was said. They thought the Boulangers had gone to Montreal.

The murdered woman was known at the lodging house only as "Mrs. Fay." The proprietor told the police "Mr. Fay" left the house last Thursday, saying "Mrs. Fay" had fallen ill, and he had removed her to a hospital. An autopsy today revealed that "Mrs. Fay" had been strangled with an apron string.

The autopsy, it was learned, showed that the woman would soon have become a mother.

FIND BODY OF VICTIM OF R-6 DISASTER

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—The body of Frank A. Spalsburg of Povera Lake, N. D., electrician and member of the crew of the navy submarine R-6, which sank Monday night in the harbor here, was found yesterday by divers. No trace has been found of the body of J. E. Dreffeln, also of the crew, who was drowned in the sinking. Spalsburg's body was found on the floor of the bay about 10 feet from the engulfed submarine. Air was pumped into the sunken submarine last night and navy officials expected that it would be raised today.

WAS FAMOUS PRIZE FIGHTER IN THE '70's

PEKING, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—China's delegation to the conference on limitation of armaments and Far East questions left this city for Shanghai today, on its way to Washington, intending to make the voyage across the Pacific on the steamer Hawkeye State. Dr. W. W. Yen, foreign minister, who has been expected to be chief of the delegation, did not leave today, but it was said he would follow, provided China's Shantung policy was determined and initiated soon enough for him to reach the American capital for the opening of the conference.

If Dr. Yen should find it impossible to go to Washington, it is probable that Dr. Wang Chung-fu, president of the civil and criminal law codification commission and a jurist of international repute, will be chief of the Chinese representatives. Three prominent Chinese diplomats were members of the party which left today. They were Chow Tzechi, former minister of finance and at one time secretary of the Chinese legation in Washington; Wang Ta-shieh, leader of the progressive party and former minister of foreign affairs; and Dr. M. T. Liang, former minister of foreign affairs and a prominent diplomat during the latter years of the Manchurian dynasty.

The remainder of the party consisted of 23 technical experts, 19 secretaries, 19 attaches, 17 translators and several foreign advisers.

ernment could not alter its fundamental position, which was vital to the empire's existence. This position was that Ireland could not be allowed to separate from the British empire, but must base her propositions upon self-government as a member of the sisterhood of British dominions.

Text of Reply
GAINLOCH, Scotland, Sept. 29. (By the Associated Press.)—The text of Premier Lloyd George's reply to the latest note from Eamon de Valera, which was despatched to Dublin early today, follows:

"In spite of their sincere desire for peace, and in spite of the complimentary tone of your latest communications, they cannot enter into a conference upon the basis of this correspondence."

"Notwithstanding your personal assurance to the contrary, which they much appreciate, it might be argued in the future that the acceptance of a conference on this basis had involved them in a recognition which no British government can accept. On this point they must guard themselves against any possible doubt. There is no purpose to be served by any further interchange of explanatory and argumentative communications upon this subject. The position taken up by his majesty's government is fundamental to the existence of the British empire, and they cannot alter it."

"The proposals which we have already made have been taken by the whole world as proof that our endeavors for reconciliation and settlement are no empty form, and we feel that conference, not correspondence, is the most practical and hopeful way to an understanding such as we ardently desire to achieve."

"We therefore send you herewith a fresh invitation to a conference in London on October 11, where we can meet your delegates as the spokesmen of the people whom you represent, with a view to ascertaining how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British empire, may best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations."

"I am, sir,
Yours faithfully,
"D. LLOYD GEORGE."

Healy Received at Dublin

DUBLIN, Sept. 29. (By the Associated Press.)—The reply of Prime Minister Lloyd George to Eamon de Valera was received at the Mansion House here at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon. It was read by Mr. de Valera and Arthur Griffith, foreign minister in the Dail cabinet, who were there awaiting it. A reply may be drafted today and placed before the Dail cabinet which will meet tomorrow.

The Sinn Fein leaders were agreeably surprised by the wording to Mr. Lloyd George's reply, and one member of the Dail cabinet expressed the view that public confidence in the conference being held was justified. A Dail minister said this afternoon:

"The reply certainly is better than we expected."

The general feeling here is that Mr. Lloyd George's invitation for a conference on Oct. 11 will be accepted. The whole temper of the Sinn Fein leaders appears to have changed for the better and optimism once more prevails here.

D. I. Cease of Cleveland, editor of the Railroad Traction, speaking before a joint session of the Steam Railroad & Electric Railway sections said that danger, disability and death always were supposed to go hand in hand with a job in train or railroad yard service, but the employees as well as their immediate superiors, must be made to realize that safety means what it says and that unnecessary injury or death will involve discipline to the person responsible if he can be reached.

Several manufacturing sections which have been meeting independently also held a joint session today.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Dows been appointed agent for Allenbury in this vicinity with the understanding that they will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

TWO FUR COATS THAT SHOW THE NEW FLARE

BY MARIAN HALE

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The decided innovation in the silhouette of fur evening coats is shown in the two coat wraps worn by Irene Castle.

The wrap with its essentially draped effect is still good style and most popular, but the "dernier cri" is heard in these two Otto Kahn models.

The flare at the bottom instead of the snug cut-in-effect marks the difference.

Ermine is always most effective for evening wear.

Irene Castle wears it with the black gown showing beneath the coat, and a gorgeous head dress—a barette of silver and jewels with two sweeping black birds of paradise.

The chinchilla coat, with its big shawl collar, gives full evidence of the flaring lines.

FEDERAL ACTION IN CAMPAIGN FOR A NEW POISON FLOUR CASE SENATE CLOTURE RULE

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—An investigation to determine the source of poison in a bag of flour sold by a Concord, N. H., grocer, which caused the illness of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Mudgett of that city, has been undertaken by federal authorities. Dr. George H. Adams, chief of the local food and drug laboratory of the United States department of agriculture, announced today that he would endeavor to trace the flour back to the mill.

A theory advanced by Dr. Adams was that the bag possibly broken in transit, had been resealed with the sweepings by a railroad employee. He pointed out that the poison appeared only in the first few pounds of flour used from the bag, and that analysis of other bags in the same shipment showed no trace of any foreign substance.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Backed by assurances of non-interference from President Harding, republican senators today renewed with fresh vigor their campaign for a new senate cloture rule to prevent filibustering and obstructive debate.

The principal immediate task before the group of republicans advocating the change in time-honored senate procedure, was said to be conversion of a few prominent leaders, notably Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, floor leader. The proposed new rule was meeting with such favor among the rank and file of republicans, its sponsors said, that they hoped to obtain pledges from a large majority of the republican membership.

There are, however, a number of influential senators, including Senators Johnson of California, La Follette of Wisconsin and Borah of Idaho, who are opposed to the change. Their objections were said to be based on the ground that restrictions of debate by majority vote would deny a small minority the power to delay or defeat what they regard as vicious measures.

President Harding's assent to the new cloture movement was reported to be grounded on the fact that the matter was one of senate rules, designed to expedite business and a matter for the senate itself to determine. The president, it was understood, agreed to a "hands off" attitude, although not opposing the plan.

HEAVY TRADING IN BONDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Continued heavy trading in Liberty and Victory bonds was featured on the stock exchange today by a sale of a block of Victory loan 4½s with a par value of $5,000,000 at 98½, slightly below yesterday's close. This is the largest single transaction ever reported on the stock exchange in Liberty or Victory bonds.

The Gray Enamel Victory Crawford is the Easiest Range to Keep Clean

YOU know how hard it is to keep the ordinary stove looking clean, and black, and shining—how stove blacking soils your hands, and how much "elbow grease" it takes to put a nice polish on a stove

But you can keep this new Gray Enamel Victory Crawford perfectly spotless by simply wiping it off with a damp cloth. Hot water, soap, and a little ammonia will take off the grease and spots

And remember, the Victory Crawford, in gray enamel, or black finish, gives you the double advantage of being able to use gas or coal, separately or together. You can broil and bake at one time with one burner using the right hand oven.

There is plenty of oven space—6½ square feet without the racks, and 13 square feet with them. From end to end, the Victory Crawford is only 43 inches long.

When using both coal and gas, in addition to the ovens you can have nine kettles cooking all at once, four on the coal, five on the gas. When there's a big dinner to get, or at preserving time, you'll appreciate this generous capacity.

If you haven't yet seen the Victory Crawford in its new gray dress, you can make its acquaintance at the store of any dealer who sells

JUDGE DE VRIES SPEAKS

Says American Standards Must Be Basis of Financial Undertakings

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—American standards must be the basis of financial undertakings if America is to achieve world commercial leadership, according to Marlon de Vries, Washington, D. C. Judge of the United States court of customs appeals, who addressed the national conference of State Manufacturers' associations today.

"Other nations struggling to rehabilitate themselves have adopted our American dollar as the standard; let us use it ourselves," he said. "Moved in an abiding confidence in the sufficiency and completeness of American institutions and American standards one is loath to believe that our system of revenues is so important that its full measure must in any wise be dependent upon or in any wise controlled by foreign standards, foreign conscience, foreign peace or foreign prosperity."

NEW ALTITUDE RECORD

Lt. MacCreedy of Dayton, O., Attains a Height of 40,800 Feet

DAYTON, O., Sept. 29.—Lieut. John A. MacCreedy, test pilot at McCook field, yesterday shattered the world's altitude record, attaining a height of 40,800 feet in the same La Pere biplane used by Rudolph C. Schroeder, who set a record of 35,150 feet Feb. 25, 1920.

MacCreedy was in the air 1 hour and 47 minutes, requiring all but a few minutes of the total flying time to reach his mark. At 39,000 feet he formed on his oxygen tank, but he pressed on until the altimeter registered 40,800 feet. At this point his engine coughed and died. He then glided safely to the ground.

MacCreedy's new record is 2620 feet higher than that of Schroeder, and in this flight the pilot suffered none of the hardship met by the former chief test pilot. Schroeder's eyeballs froze and excessive dilation of the heart kept him in a hospital nearly two weeks after the flight.

The flight made yesterday primarily was for the purpose of testing improvements made in the supercharger invented by S. A. Moss, who witnessed the flight, and also a new propeller of very high pitch, perfected by engineers at the Dayton field.

On landing, MacCreedy declared he suffered nothing but numbness. He

Barnes Strikes Ulmer In the Mouth—Injured Lawyer Freed of Theft Charge

DEDHAM, Sept. 29.—Great excitement was caused in the Dedham district court before noon yesterday when Clarence A. Barnes, an attorney, struck W. Edwin Ulmer, a Brookline lawyer, in the mouth with his fist, knocking him over a bench.

Mr. Ulmer, who was later in the afternoon acquitted of larceny of $15,000 worth of materials from the Henry Woods' Sons company of Wellesley, was defending himself. Mr. Barnes was representing the Woods company. Just before the noon recess the two lawyers met. Mr. Ulmer was standing beside his wife at the time, and as Mr. Barnes walked past him he suddenly swung his fist on Mr. Ulmer's jaw, cutting his lip, loosening some of his teeth and knocking him over a bench.

As Mr. Ulmer staggered under the blow several bystanders jumped between the two men and finally they were taken from the building through separate exits. As a result of the assault, Mr. Ulmer late yesterday afternoon asked Judge Clifford B. Sanborn to issue a bench warrant for the arrest of Mr. Barnes on the charge of assault and battery. Judge Sanborn told Mr. Ulmer that Mr. Barnes would want to be heard, and he asked him to come to court any day this week

HASSAN ENTITLED TO COMPENSATION

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The Industrial accident board has handed down a decision in the case of Mark Hassan, employee, the Boott mills, employer, and the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., insurer, who was slain in the aldermanic chamber, city hall, Lowell, Aug. 4, 1921. The question was one of incapacity. Hassan, the claimant, testified that he was injured on March 18, 1915, while employed as a card stripper in the card department of the Boott mills.

The board's decision was that the employee did receive an injury March 18, 1915, while in the employ of the subscriber. It is found that he is entitled to compensation for inability to obtain employment as a result of his injury from May 1, 1921, to Aug. 3, 1921, a period of thirteen and four-sevenths weeks, at $6.40 a week, in amount $86.56, said weekly compensation to continue in accordance with the provision of the law. AFTER SPEEDSTERS

The police of Billerica have been notified by the selectmen of the town to observe conditions relative to fast auto driving through the town, particularly at Smith's corner in the North village, and to report any case of excessive speeding to Registrar Frank A. Goodwin at the state house. Warning signs were recently posted at the four approaches to the intersection of Boston and Treble Cove roads, but these signs have been utterly ignored. The officers have promised to bring over speeding at this spot to a stop.

STANLEY E. QUAY

In nominating Stanley E. Quay for justice of the superior court, Governor Cox has made a good selection. From his education, his careful legal training, his judicial acumen, and his high sense of justice, Mr. Quay is eminently fitted for the position. We congratulate him upon this high honor. It is also a merited recognition of the Lowell bar that had been expected for some time.

In his new and honorable position, we have no doubt that Mr. Quay will reflect credit upon himself and his city and eventually rank high among the eminent jurists of the Massachusetts bench.

OUR CITY CHARTERS

Students in civics, and particularly of city charters, lend us your ears. With the charter election but a few weeks away, the citizens of Lowell should devote some serious thought to the provisions of the new charter framed by a non-partisan commission of citizens and representing their best judgment as to the plan of local government best adapted to the city of Lowell.

For the benefit of the younger voters and those who were not in Lowell under the old charter which was abandoned when the present instrument was adopted, we shall here review the work of charter changes which brought us to the present stage in which we are called upon to decide between the present commission charter and that submitted by the charter commission.

The old city charter was modeled after the state legislative bodies with two branches and an executive, corresponding to the senate and house, together with the governor or chief executive of the state. The upper branch was designated the board of aldermen and consisted of nine members corresponding to the number of wards; but they were elected at large.

The lower branch after the increase in the number of wards effected in 1896, consisted of 27 members, three from each ward. Both branches had to concur on any action taken before it went to the mayor for his approval or veto.

In case he vetoed any measure, the council by a two-thirds vote could pass it over the veto; and this was frequently done when the council had a majority opposed to the mayor's political party; for partisan lines were drawn on many questions. It was a partisan government throughout, sometimes democratic, sometimes republican. When the voters got tired of one party, they put in the other and, although there was objection to this plan it was not without its advantages, for the reason that the party leaders had to shoulder the responsibility for the administration of its representatives in the council whether that was good or bad.

The chief objection to this charter was, that it resulted in deadlocks which tied up the city's business. When either of the branches failed to organize because of contention over the filling of the principal offices, no business could be done. In one instance, one of these deadlocks prevented the common council from organizing for the greater part of a year.

As a result, no business was done and no money voted during that time by the council; and hence the mayor and city treasurer had to raise funds as best they could to keep the department running. The most needy employees of the city were paid, but the school teachers and some others had to wait.

Although these officials had wonderful success in meeting the trying situation, the people began to talk charter reform and to plan changes in the charter that would eliminate the deadlocks. Partisan government was blamed for most of the trouble and it was very generally agreed that it should be eliminated.

There was also a proposition to have both branches merged into one so as to avoid the delay in securing a concurrent vote.

That was the state of mind of the Lowell electorate when the heralds of the commission charter came to tell of what it had accomplished in Galveston, Tex., after the tidal wave disaster. It did accomplish wonders there, and that was the very thing that decided the people into the belief that it would work equally well in other cities and under normal conditions.

The people forgot that in Galveston after the disaster, the best and ablest men in the city were named on the commission and willingly accepted. Moreover, all the people still over-awed by the stupendous upheaval of the ocean, stood ready to co-operate with the commission to the extreme limit of their power.

All were solidly united in support of the commission, worked not so much to restore the old city or to re-establish former conditions, as to rebuild a new city. The things accomplished were magical and marvelous. In a few years it seemed as if a new city had risen from the ruins of the old. Every other American city stood amazed at what had been accomplished by the commission government at Galveston and in many of them, the cry of reform went up to facilitate Arkville when admitted in favor of the commission form of government. It was soon adopted at Des Moines, Ia., and some other cities and for a time it gave fair satisfaction.

It was in 1910 that its adoption was advocated in Lowell and some very prominent men, including former President Eliot of Harvard, delivered addresses here in advocacy of the commission charter. During in eloquent terms upon the beauty of the new method under which five men would sit down at a table, like the directors of a bank, and with harmony and despatch transact the city's business.

Oh! that was a beautiful picture and it caught the town; but alas, how different the reality! The commission form of government was very good for small cities, but for such as Lowell, it has proved an utter failure. The commission charter was adopted by the citizens of Lowell in 1911 and it took effect the first Monday in January, 1912, so that it has been in force for ten years. In 1911 the tax rate was $18.90, and now it is $31.40. How the new charter worked, its leading defects, and the necessity of a change will form the subject of a subsequent editorial.

VOICE OF THE G.A.R.

Commander Ketchum of the Grand Army of the Republic in addressing the national encampment at Indianapolis, set forth the various ways in which the veterans must fight against every menace that threatens the safety or security of this nation. He made earnest reference to the recrudescence of the Ku Klux Klan, which had brought shame upon the country fifty years ago. He declared that the Grand Army stood ready to oppose every menace of that kind. Although bowed in years, the Grand Army would still stand firmly against every foe of the republic and in defence of the liberties for which they shed their blood in the Civil war and for which younger men in a later struggle offered their lives for the flag. In this connection the Grand Army may well recall Lincoln's memorable denunciation of a bigoted organization quite similar to the Ku Klux Klan although called by a different name. He denounced the organization for attempting to subvert the principle of the constitution that declares that all men are created equal.

"When it comes to this" (the discrimination against a particular sect or creed) he said, "I shall prefer emigrating to some country where they make no pretense of loving liberty—to Russia for instance, where despotism can be taken pure and without the base alloy of hypocrisy." The Grand Army is true to the flag and as it is mustered out and it beats its last tattoo, its place will be well filled by the American Legion whose members are now in the prime of life and intensely loyal to the flag, to the cause of liberty and humanity.

WANT THE CAPITAL

In Moscow the soviet government offers 254 factories for lease by private capital. Twenty-six are gobbled at once. Foreign capital will take others, but not all.

What is going to happen is indicated by the frenzy of speculation in Moscow. Promoters crowd the street curbs, offering stock in co-operative companies that will take over factories.

Such co-operative societies will be many and plentiful in Russia, now that the soviets, by their new policy, bid private capital take hold of industries which the Bolsheviks tried to run and could not without the aid of the detested capitalists whom they treated as criminals and robbers.

COST OF LIVING

Still the cost of living bothers most people; but things might be much worse than they are. They are vastly worse abroad than in this country. Prices have fallen faster in the United States than in any other country, which means that we'll get back to normal first.

The lower prices will make incomes go farther, and what is equally important, it will enable us to compete in world markets for trade.

Deflation is unpleasant, but it is the only medicine that is good for what ails us at present. When it shall have reached the limit it has not done so already, then prices will be stabilized and business will begin to boom.

THE NICKEL FARE

The Boston Elevated is gradually getting back to the nickel fare on all the shorter routes, but even these are longer than any single fare route in Lowell. The longer routes on the Elevated lines are from five to eight or ten miles. It would be well if the Eastern Massachusetts company adopted a nickel fare in this city without transfer, outward and inward, with Merrimack square as the central point. It might prove to be a source of increased revenue as causing more people to ride.

REPUBLICANS FIRM

In the Sixth congressional district, the republicans are still strong for Harding administration as shown by the election of Col. A. Platt Andrews over Judge Pettengill, the democratic candidate, by a majority that holds the same ratio to the democratic vote as was shown in the election of Lufkin last November.

If, as alleged by the commission, the necessities of life, the one arm lunches are making 250 to 500 per cent profit on the food they serve, they should be a remedy. The overhead expenses do not justify such charges.

Alas! for the women who rushed there, the cry of reform went up to facilitate Arkville when admitted in favor of the commission form of government. It was soon adopted at Des Moines, Ia., and some other cities and for a time it gave fair satisfaction.

It was in 1910 that its adoption was advocated in Lowell and some very prominent men, including former President Eliot of Harvard, delivered addresses here in advocacy of the commission charter. During in eloquent terms upon the beauty of the new method under which five men

He was unfamiliar with the domestic contrivances of town life. To his mates on Monday morning he confided that his Sunday dinner had been only half cooked because his wife could not get the oven hot enough. They told him about the advantages of a gas stove, and he had one installed. Immediately on Saturday night, over a friendly glass, he became enthusiastic about the gas stove. "We lighted her on Wednesday after the men had gone," he said, "and the darned thing hasn't gone out yet!"

A Pair of 'Em

A free-lance journalist found himself on a train without a ticket and decided to play the deadhead game. When the conductor appeared he told him that he had left his pocketbook at home, but that he was on the staff of the Daily News. "All right," said the official, "come forward to the next car and we can identify you." There was no turning back, so the passenger followed the conductor, expected ignominious exposure, but to his great surprise the editor, looking up from his paper, said simply: "Yes, conductor, that's all right. The man is on my staff." When the conductor had departed the free-lance undertook his journey with gratitude to the great man for his magnanimous falsehood. "O, don't mention it," said the other. "You see, I'm not really the editor of the Daily News."

I ran across my old friend, C. H. Stickney, in Merrimack square this morning. Mr. Stickney, now 82 years old but in splendid health for one of his years, is one of the real veterans of the Civil war and highly popular in Post 120, G.A.R., circles, where he is a frequent and welcome visitor. The veteran is taking life easy. He wore a spic and span gray suit and a nobby gray soft hat this morning, and the clear voice ever present.

The Grand Army man, who New Hampshire bred and sometimes calls that his home, really lives at 233 Dover street, this city. He was formerly a private in the ranks of the famous old New Hampshire Eighth Infantry, Volunteers, and served in various commands from 1862 throughout the war. In fact, the veteran never left the service until 1866.

Mr. Stickney, after hard service with the old Eighth, was promoted to a first lieutenant in the dandy 84th Regiment, and saw tough service on the line all through the bloody Louisiana campaign. Later the Lowell man was appointed post commissary at Fort Hudson, and the war for him was over. He was clerk in the commissary department before getting the chief office. Lieut. Stickney attended the recent reunion of his old comrades in New Hampshire.

Saw Ed Hines, wide-awake manager of the John street market, yesterday morning for a few minutes. He's just as enthusiastic as the Morgan boys and the Pelletiers, and all the rest, over the hunting season prospects. Hines is pretty fair with the old shotgun, and yesterday there was but one market wagon on hand, and trade appeared to be slow, although potatoes were selling for 50 cents a peck and fairly good apples (cooking) for 45 cents a large basket. There were no good eating apples displayed anywhere except upon the downtown fruit stands, and they were western or Canadian apples.

Word comes from Arlington that the Middlesex Sportsman's association has received about $8000 anglering trout which has been placed in the waters of the southern county district covered by the association's field workers. Napoleon J. Hardy has charge of the good work.

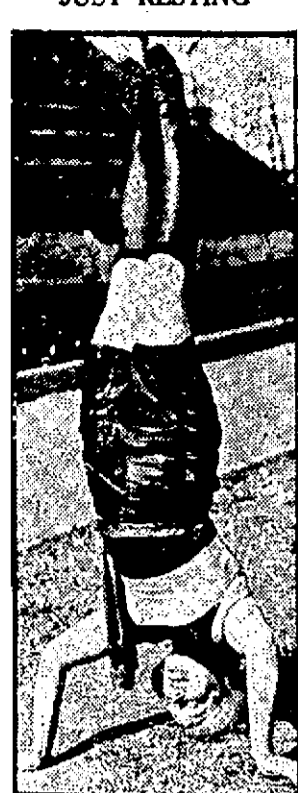

The public market districts for country peddlers are not crowded here today. Yesterday there was but one market wagon on hand, and trade appeared to be slow, although potatoes were selling for 50 cents a peck and fairly good apples (cooking) for 45 cents a large basket. There were no good eating apples displayed anywhere except upon the downtown fruit stands, and they were western or Canadian apples.

I wonder if Middlesex county farmers can produce any potatoes weighing two pounds and four ounces apiece? That is a Sherman Maine record you know. They grow 'em in old Andover county, say. As proof of the record potatoes, H. S. Gallison, local manager of the Universal Tilt Power company on East Merrimack street, has just returned from Sherman, which is 45 miles from the "potato centre" of Maine, Houlton, bringing two handsome "dud" potatoes each weighing more than two pounds. They are beauties. The potatoes were raised on the Gallison farm, which is now conducted by Mr. Gallison's brothers, William R. and Pearl P. Gallison.

Local music teachers, vocal and instrumental, tell me they never had so many pupils before, the list of candidates for regular teaching being larger than ever. One of the energetic teachers who tells me her "hands are full" this season is Mrs. Helen Hamilton Taylor, well known in local church and musical circles.

The Congregational church denomination is in need of more than $10,000 to provide more adequate salaries for clergymen all over the world, according to Rev. Dr. Charles E. Burton, secretary of the National Council. He declares that the salaries of Congressional ministers have been increased 45 per cent, but these are still 51 per cent of ordained ministers receiving less than $1500 a year. Dr. Burton declares that many pastors actually need to be provided with "bread and butter" so meagre is the pay they are receiving. The "million-dollar campaign" may be expected soon, then.

AUTOMOBILE BURNED

The alarm from box 815 shortly before 5:30 o'clock last evening was for a blaze in a Reo automobile on the farm of Thorndike Trull at the corner of Andover street and Clark road. The first place of fire-fighting apparatus reached the scene of the fire two minutes after the sounding of the alarm, and the quick response of the members of the department prevented the flames from spreading to a nearby barn. The auto was badly damaged.

Roger Shaw, son of Dr. Frederick K. Shaw, a prominent physician of Concord, Mass., this week began his first studies at the Lowell Textile school. Mr. Shaw, it is said, after four years' study here, will be taken into the American Woolen Co. organization, under President William W. Wood, who already has several young textile men training under his personal supervision. Dr. Shaw, the boy's father, is a personal friend of President Wood. The doctor has a fine war record during the late mix-up across the ocean.

CERTAIN RELIEF FROM BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Simple Home Treatment Makes Breathing Easy

Just because you start the day tired, life is worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of bronchial asthma—do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple treatment known as Oxidaze, Mass. Physician.

For any form of asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. It soothes up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

Oxidaze is a tablet made from essential oils which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by Lowell Pharmacy, Lippitt's and Green's Drug Store, leading druggists who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.—Adv.

ACCIDENTS HAPPENING ON ALL SIDES

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—No accidents are more easily happening in theory than in practice—at least that is the finding of the national safety council which is meeting for a week at the state house in an effort to devise ways and means of preventing accidents.

Accidents are happening on all sides, as they did before the Don't Get Hurt and Safety First campaigns began and some of these accidents are happening right at the no-accidents convention.

One woman delegate, leaving her hotel to go to the state house to take part in reform work, slipped on the stairs and was so badly hurt that she had to stay in her hotel room nursing her wounds rather than debate accident prevention.

The section of the convention that seeks to prevent accidents in public utilities corporations had an unfortunate happening yesterday. They had secured room 222 at the state house, the judiciary committee's room, for two mornings this week, in spite of the protests of the regular occupants of the room, the commission to revise the banking laws.

Then the no-accidents reformers proceeded to smoke cigarettes, dropping ashes and butts on the floor. When their no-accident session was over it was found that a hole had been burned in the beautiful carpet in that room. Apologies were forthcoming, but they did not repair the accident.

In another section meeting yesterday an accident occurred. A lecturer was explaining how dust explosions might be prevented but instead of preventing an accident, he caused one. Chemicals and dirt went flying through the air and the poor lecturer made an exit much belated. As he passed from view he was met with taunting cries of "Have you met with an accident?"

While it is too early for full returns, persons following accident data during this no-accident week predict that the average of accidents will be cut down but slightly, if at all. HOYT.

COURT WANNALANCIT

At a recent meeting of the members of Court Wannalancit, M.C.O.F., the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Chief ranger, Mary K. Daley; vice chief ranger, Bartholomew Dunn; recording secretary, Mary Garvey; financial secretary, Arthur J. Rousseau; treasurer, Patrick S. Ward; senior conductor, Ruth Conlin; junior conductor, Mary Welch; inside sentinel, Helen Welch; outside sentinel, Margaret McEnaney; delegates to the high court, Patrick S. Ward, John Daley, Michael Welch, Gabriel Auden; trustees, Mrs. Thomas H. Murphy, Mrs. Michael Welch, Mary McGrath. In the course of the meeting it was announced that a whist party will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 7, and that on Thanksgiving eve a social gathering of some sort will be conducted in the town hall. The newly elected officers will be installed at next month's meeting.

Grafton, Pa.—"I was troubled with inflammation and pains in my sides and back. After doctoring with different medicines and not getting relief, I had almost given up hopes when my sister told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and knowing that she had really been helped by it, I purchased it. I was unable to do my work at that time, but after taking several bottles of the Vegetable Compound I can now do anything about the house or farm that a woman should do. I have a four months old baby that is the healthiest and biggest baby for his age that I have ever seen. I am willing for my letter to be used for a testimonial to tell other suffering women how much your medicine has done for me, as I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all the praise."—MRS. BLAIR L. FISHER, R.D. 1, Box 37, Grafton, Pa.

Working early and late—lifting, carrying, and the heaviest of household duties—is it any wonder that it results in backaches and kindred ills. But every woman who suffers as Mrs. Fisher did should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

It is sold by Lowell Pharmacy, Lippitt's and Green's Drug Store, leading druggists who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.—Adv.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem You Know It

THERE'D be mighty little movement leading forward to improvement, There'd be mighty little progress we would make, If we always stood in terror of committing any error, If we wouldn't risk the chances of mistake; But the wise grow clearer-witted by the failures they've committed And they don't persist in errors very long, And you'll find, in any season, they will always hark to reason And will cheerfully admit it when they're wrong!

WHEN you've learned to know your weakness, when in humbleness and meekness

You can see the fault that led to your distress, Then you're gaining useful learning and you'll find your footsteps turning Toward the pathway that leads onward to success.

You'd be one of nature's wonders if you made no foolish blunders, You'd be much too good for any human throng; When you're right be duly grateful—for to boast of it is hateful— But be quickest to admit it when you're wrong.

MANY friendships have been broken through some hasty phrases-spoken Which the speaker was too stubborn to retract; Many hearts are torn asunder through an unadmitted blunder When confession of an error would be tact;

Since to err, they say, is human, every man and every woman Will find life a smoother road to move along, And existence somewhat fairer if, in all this world of error, They will honestly admit it when they're wrong!

Gentlemen:

We have tested Lux and find it is ideal for washing Van Raalte Silk Underwear.

It dissolves so quickly and thoroughly that it is impossible for any bits of solid soap to lodge in the delicate silk threads to discolor and weaken them.

We find that washing Van Raalte Silk Underwear in the mild Lux lather actually makes it wear longer and we are recommending it to our customers on this account.

Very truly yours,

If you are thin, scrawny and undeveloped. If your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, it's almost certain that you have a weak system and a bottomless tub of trouble. You can eat three, yes, four, substantial, fat producing meals a day, but your system will not absorb it. You have an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit. You must first build up your system by the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves must contain the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put anything into a leaky bucket. Get something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correct food and correct nerve force.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and nerves, who are lacking in vitality, can delight a quick and certain way to build solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for its ability to build up the system and overcome nervous digestive troubles. In fact, the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will build up a weak, nervous, thin person into a healthy, robust, muscular man or woman and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition and ready to do anything to accomplish things.

Dr. Howard and his associates, who are everywhere have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee that if your system is claimed for them or money refunded.

Caution: While Evans' Triple Phosphates Accomplishes wonders in nervous and digestive troubles, it is not a general nerve tonic. It should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of weight, stay-there flesh.

A well known business man, John H. Brittain who in earlier years was in the old Indian Territory has certified to the following, notably:

"I was held at a time when I had become discouraged at seeing various hair lotions, ointments, specializations, treatments, etc., advertised, and I saw a Cherokee Indian medicine man who had an ointment that he advertised would grow my hair. I tried it, but little faith. I gave it a trial. To my amazement, it held my hair as it appeared. I developed a healthy growth of hair. I was told my hair was as prolific as in my youth days."

"My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. This ointment was almost gone, but as he thought the roots were extinct, there was no hope of my hair growing. I was told the roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the healing potency of the compound."

"I came into possession of the recipe for hair growth. I had a copy called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into permanent form by Dr. C. W. Owen. My own hair growth is permanent. Has become amply proved. Many great and wonderful things children, have reported amongst themselves, using KOTALKO."

Textile School Football Team Holds First Scrimmage of Season—Macher May Not Play This Year

Lowell Textile's football team received a serious blow yesterday when Coach Macher was injured in a scrimmage. The first scrimmage of the season was held yesterday despite the fact that many of the men are yet soft. Something had to be done to get a line on the material at hand with the first game only two days away. Coach Macher kept the men at it until it became too dark to accomplish much work.

The coach said it was impossible to determine even a tentative lineup at the present time because the material was shifting from day to day. A few of last year's team are practically sure to start the game Saturday against New Bedford.

During the signal drill yesterday Jack Gossett and Hadley were placed at the wing positions. Fendel and Schwartz were in the tackle position. Wilmet and Bird at guards and Lombard at the pivot position. Marlin took care of the helm during the greater part of the practice while Capt. Walker, Macher and Huggins made up the backfield. There will be one or two changes in this lineup for the opening contest although the field is expected to be in better shape than it was yesterday.

Two teams were made up and signal practice run through for a half hour to start the ball rolling. Coach Decket then took the new material over for a session with the dummies. In this contingent Smith and Barlett showed up particularly well and will push some of the regulars hard for place on the team.

Captain Walker is optimistic about Macher's chances of remaining on the team. He told the Sun yesterday he thought matters could be arranged whereby the stay could be voted plenty of time to the left and right at the same time get in the desired work on the gridiron. Within a day or two Walker expects matters will be adjusted in a satisfactory manner to enable Macher to play.

Coach Decket is not at all pleased with the manner in which the candidates are taking the game. He thinks there is not the dash, fight and seriousness there ought to be to make a team successful. Throughout practice yesterday he drove the candidates with an iron hand and made it known from the first there would be no fooling on the eleven. He emphasized the fact that the team must be no meaner on the field until they left.

Coach Decket is a graduate of Dartmouth college and played on the great eleven developed there during the regime of Ralph and Johnny Flaze. He is used to taking football as a serious

Jack Chesbro Pulls For Yanks To Win

JACK CHESBRO MADE A WILD PITCH IN 1904 AND CUT NEW YORK
OUT OF A PENNANT

LARRY LAJOIE
STUCK OUT WITH THE BASES FULL
IN A PITCH—IN 1908—AND CLEVELAND LOST THE PENNANT

MERKLE FAILED TO GO AFTER SPEAKER'S FOUL V. H COST
THE GIANTS A W. SERIES

BY ROY GROVE
Jack Chesbro, the pitcher whose hard luck cost the New York American team a pennant on the only occasion the team has had a chance to cop, is pulling strong for the Huggins now.

If Babe Ruth & Co. beat the Cleveland team to the wire, Chesbro says he will shut up shop in his lumber business at Conway, Mass., and march himself in the Polo ground stands to do his bit for the Yankees.

Back in 1904 the American league race wound up in a Garfield finish. Early in June, Clark Griffith's New York team, then known as the Highlanders, went into second place and were chasing the league leading Boston team hard. The fight that followed during the rest of the season was one of the most bitter ever staged in the league. Early in August New York went into the lead. Then they were dislodged, fought their way back and were dislodged again. Chicago also remained a possibility until the last week in the race.

The teams went into the last series almost neck and neck. And then came the Chesbro catastrophe. Chesbro during that season was at the peak of his career. With a record of 41 wins and 12 defeats for the year, he led all other American league pitchers by a big margin.

And with the Highlanders needing two more victories to cop the flag and Boston needing one, Griffith sent Chesbro in to pitch the "crucial" game.

During the first part of the game Chesbro held Boston scoreless while the Highlanders scored two runs in the fifth. But in the seventh, with a lead of 2-0, he let them have a home run and lost the game.

Everybody tightened up then, and Boston came to bat in the ninth with the score still tied. Criger singled and moved over on Dineen's sacrifice.

Chesbro prepared to feed the next batter a splitter. But his finger slipped on the moist ball, the pitch went wild and hit the stands and Criger went home with the winning run, giving Boston the American league championship.

That wasn't the only time a team has been erased as a pennant winner by an unlooked for possibility.

Larry Lajoie, the former hard hitting leader of the Cleveland Naps, also looks back on an "if only had—"

Back in 1905 all the western American league teams were bunched so closely that at the end of September only about 20 points separated the four.

The season wound up with the western teams meeting. St. Louis humiliated the league leading Detroit team. In the first Cleveland-Chicago game, Lajoie pitched a no-hit game against Big Ed Walsh of the White Sox, beating him 1 to 0, although Walsh fanned 15 Naps in eight innings.

Lajoie's disaster came in the next game. The Cleveland leader came to bat in the seventh inning with one man down and the bases full. Fielder Jones, White Sox manager, yanked Smith, who had started the game, and sent in Ed Walsh to pitch to Lajoie.

And Walsh delivered—for Larry struck out.

A hit would have won the pennant for Cleveland, for on the following day Cleveland lost to St. Louis while Detroit beat Chicago, winning the pennant from Cleveland by just four points.

Merkle and Snodgrass can both look back on "if only I hadn't—" experiences. For their honors cost the Giants the 1912 series with the Red Sox.

Each team had won three games. One had been played to a tie. In the deciding game Matty was in the box and the Giants were leading by one run to the tenth.

Engle tied high to Snodgrass, and he let the ball trickie through him. This fussed Matty, and he let Yerkes walk. Up came Tris Speaker, a dangerous hitter. Snodgrass fouled a high one over first and Merkle stood as if in a trance and let it fall safe in the catcher's box.

Then Speaker singled, sending over the tying run and making it possible for a sacrifice fly to bring in the run that decided the series.

Larry Doyle of the Giants pulled out in the fifth game of the 1911 series that had it not been for the sportsmanship of Capt. Harry Davis of the Athletics, might have wound up the series earlier.

The Giants had scored two runs in the last half of the ninth and tied the score. The Athletics had failed to score in the tenth.

Doyle, first in for New York, doubled and went to third on Snodgrass' bunt. Merkle hit a high fly just inside the right foul line. Murphy made a great return to Catcher Lapp, but Doyle's fadeaway slide beat the ball.

Dusting off his clothes, he walked to the bench, never noticing the fact that he hadn't touched the plate. Lapp, too, turned away, thinking the game was over. Emphre Kling remained at the plate, waiting for a protest. Davis, on first, saw the play, but the crowds were already breaking onto the field, and rather than take chances on starting a riot among the fans, the Athletic captain refused to protest Doyle's run.

Two "JIMS" WITH BUT ONE IDEA

The request of Jimmy Davidson, local K. of C. pitcher, to get another crack at the Boston pitcher-teaser was granted by the Lowell club.

Spalding park last Saturday, recalls the attitude of another "Jimmy" well known to Lowell sport fellows. The latter is a member of the Lowell club, a fraternity, named Duffy, who bails from New York. Duffy has appeared in Lowell many times and has a host of friends and admirers here.

Duffy's manager, in discussing his protege after a local bout, said Duffy is an unusual boxer. He continued, "the great majority of boxers are content when beaten by a man, to give said conqueror a wide berth in the future. Not so with Duffy. When he loses he comes to me and demands that I rematch him. He says and get him again, for I owe him a kicking." Generally the words Duffy employs are "I want to see you."

This ultimatum is virtually the same as Davidson issued to Manager Coughlin after his worst defeat of the season last Saturday. "Revenge on them," said Davidson, "I know I can beat them and want the chance."

ASSIST FOR SCOREBOARD

Dutch Ruetter Knocks Out Through Batter's Number Box at Braves' Field and Gets Homer

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The score board at Braves' Field got an assist in yesterday's game between Brooklyn and the Braves, but not for a point. In the ninth inning, Dutch Ruetter, the Brooklyn twirler, hit one of Boston's pitchers to the scoreboard, and it bounded through a vacant place where the batter's number had been a moment before. He was credited with a home run because the ball went out of view.

AUTOIST RUNS DOWN

TRAFFIC OFFICERS

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Two traffic officers busy at helping pedestrians observe the letter of "no accident" week were struck and slightly hurt yesterday by an automobile driven by Arthur L. Pierce of Brookline. Pierce explained that in his own anxiety to respect the spirit of the week he had failed to see the policeman.

FOOTBALL NOTES

The Canfield Warriors will play the numerals boxers in Billerica next Saturday afternoon at 2. The Warriors would like to play any 115-pound team to Lowell. Games can be arranged by seeing manager at Fisher's field any evening at 8:30 o'clock.

K. OF C. VS. DAYLIGHTS FINAL GAMES OF PENNANT RACE

Series To Be Resumed At

Spalding Park on Saturday

Afternoon

The big "serious" is on again. After a lull of two weeks, Managers Coughlin of the local K. of C. and Lord of the Highland Daylights have come together and completed plans for the resumption of their series and the second game will be played at Spalding park Saturday afternoon.

This action followed a word from Boston that the Post Office team, which was scheduled here for a regular engagement, found it impossible to play. Manager Coughlin then got in touch with Mr. Lord and after a lengthy session, the pair came to terms and agreed to resume their series Saturday.

While this announcement will meet with the approval of the great majority, there is one individual who is somewhat disappointed over the plan. Jim Davidson, star pitcher of the knights, met a crushing defeat last Saturday at the hands of the Post Office team and was his earnest desire to get another crack at the team. But he will have to wait until a later date.

Manager Lord plans to add several new men to his team. He is confident that if successful, his team will even the count next Saturday. The Indians will depend for the most part on the power of the bats. One exception, however, will be the presence of "Dutch" Wilhelm, former star of the Boston Braves. He is expected to add considerable strength to the offensive department. He has been working out with the squad for the past few weeks, and feels confident that the locals will be successful in their drive for the state title.

WILL PLAY IN LAWRENCE

"Caseys" Win Flip of Coin

From Centralvilles for Deciding Game

While the Centralville and Lawrence K. of C. baseball nines are even up 2-2 in games 50, the downriver boys outbatted the Lowell outfit in the matter of the deciding game as the "Caseys" won the flip of a coin to decide the scene of the pivotal game.

Manager Case tipped a coin last night to see where the third game would be played and he muffed the call, the game going to Lawrence where it will be played Saturday.

The local crew will not be without its supporters as over 1000 royal routers have made plans to accompany the team Saturday. Special electric lights will leave Merrimack square at 1 o'clock in addition to a number of auto trucks which will carry fans to the game.

Practically the same lineups will face each other as appeared in last Saturday's contest. Whitney will be the pitcher for the local team while either McParland or Maloney will serve 'em up for Lawrence.

NEW U. S. RACE ENTRY

REAL FISH SCHOONER

(By N.E.A. Service)

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Sept. 29.—The elimination of the Boston schooner race, which was won by a syndicate of Massachusetts yachtsmen hoped to corner the international fishermen's race, has infused the schooner captains of Gloucester and Nova Scotia with renewed energy and interest.

So long as there was a doubt as to the Maxflower's eligibility, the Gloucester men steeled clear of the race. They felt with resentment that there was another attempt to poach upon their grounds.

Shown Resentment

They were not slow to say that the Maxflower was not a genuine fishing vessel, but a yacht masquerading for an ulterior purpose, and their own weather beaten craft could not hope to compete with the Bostonian.

But now the situation has been changed.

The Canadian committee rejected the entry of the Mayflower and requested the American representatives to choose another. "Violating the spirit of the deed of gift of the international trophy presented by the Halifax Herald," was the reason.

This cleared the air.

The Americans accepted the ruling and started all over again to uncover a representative. They received the ready co-operation of the Gloucester captains this time; entries were offered and the result is an elimination race on Oct. 12.

Three days later, the Canadians will hold a contest to decide the championship of the Canadian fleets and out of the competitors—not necessarily the winner—a representative will be chosen.

Conditions Different

This is rendered necessary by the fact that the rules governing the Canadian championship differ from those of the international race. There are possibilities that the Nova Scotia winner might not comply with the latter, consequently representative must be named by choice and not by elimination.

The international championship will take place off Halifax harbor on the 22d and 24th of October. Should a third race be necessary it will be carried out on the following day.

The United States naval department which last year was officially represented by a warship will, it is understood, again similarly grace the proceedings.

C. Walker, Athletics' "Babe

Ruth" Bags Another Home

Run

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The Philadelphia Athletics may be in last place in the American league, but they can boast of a "Babe Ruth" in Outfielder C. Walker, whose total home runs to date number 23 for the season.

Walker is adding to his string with such regularity that the New York Yankees will watch him closely in their three game series with the Athletics which begins in Philadelphia today.

Should Cleveland, which today started a four game series with the White Sox, make a clean sweep, the Yankees must win three out of four to retain their first place position. The fourth game on the Yanks' schedule is with the Red Sox at the Polo grounds Sunday.

Besides Walker, the New York team has pitcher Ed Rommel to worry about. This Athletic twirler has proven almost as much of a link to the locals as the other Urban Slobber of the Browns, who shut them out Tuesday. Rommel likely will get into the game against New York, before his bid for townsmanship. Cleveland also is faced with the probability that both Faber and Kerr, crack Chicago pitchers will oppose them in two of their four games.

The Yankees left for Philadelphia confident they will overcome any obstacles that Manager Connie Mack and his team may put in their way. Manager Huggins is expected to rely on Hoyt, Shawkey and Mays to do the picking against the Athletics this week.

Walker, who made his 23rd homer yesterday in a game won by Boston, 5 to 4, was one of four circuit swatters, although only three games were played in the Lowell circuit. Urban Slobber of Brooklyn, each made one in their club's victory over the Boston Braves, and Pratt, Red Sox, hit one. White Sox pitcher, who had a perfect batting average with three hits, one a triple. Southworth, Boston, drives his third triples in three times up, and his fellow townsmen, Pratt, Red Sox, hit safely in four trips to the plate.

The general interest in gymnastics and indoor sports is becoming so great in Germany that the national commission on physical exercise is drawing plans to present to the Reichstag for enacting a law providing for the compulsory gymnastic training of its citizens.

Although Germans have always shot high in gymnastic work, they evidently have learned from the American fighting spirit the benefit derived from outdoor games.

ELABORATE STADIUM

According to Allen Muhl, French assistant commissair, Paris is planning the greatest stadium ever for the 1924 Olympic games.

Muhl is in this country on a tour of inspection of American athletic fields.

The Paris stadium will be made of a series of small pavilions, all within one vast amphitheatre. In one section will be conducted the track and field events, another will take care of gymnastics and games, and a third will hold the tennis, swimming and boxing contests.

This will avoid the crowding of events and the spectators will witness any special event they are interested in without sitting out the entire program.

INDIANS MEET WHITE SOX ON "KERR DAY"

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Preliminaries to the 1921 world's series today reached the semi-final stage when Tris Speaker led his playing-through championship Cleveland club into a paramount four game series with the seventh place Chicago White Sox. Mixed with the Indians' determination to make it four in a row from their lowly opponents, despite Red Faber and Dick Kerr, two of the league's best hurlers, necessarily was a prayer for the leading New York Yankees to falter in at least one of their remaining quartet of games, to permit the Clevelanders to contest with the National League victors for baseball's premier honors. Today was Kerr Day at Comisky Park and with the diminutive moundsman to be showered with gifts and thousands of his admirers to be on hand, it was regarded as probable that he would be sent out to turn back the fighting Indians. The pitcher had not been announced this morning, however, and it was regarded as possible Faber would be the choice. There was no indication as to who would pitch for Cleveland. The day dawned cloudy and humid, with a forecast for showers for afternoon.

Hopes to Clinch Flag "Mathewson Day"

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Manager McGraw and his New York Giants would like nothing better than to clinch the National League pennant by defeating the Boston Braves at the Christy Mathewson testimonial game at the Polo grounds tomorrow. It would please "Big Six" who helped the club win championships of another day, and it would give the players more rest in preparation for the world's series next month.

Mathewson, still the idol of thousands of baseball fans, is slowly recovering from tuberculosis at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

924 Homers In Majors This Season

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—With only a few major league games to be played, the season's record of home runs in the National and American Leagues is close to 900 more circuit clouts than were made in 1920.

The present year's total to date for both leagues is 924 homers against 631 made during last year's entire season.

American League players so far this year have walloped the ball for 470 home runs against 370 last year and in the National League 454 have been hit to date as compared with 261 in 1920.

WISHES FOR SUCCESS OF ARMS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Representatives of two religions—Christianity and Buddhism—conveyed to President Harding today their hopes for the success of the armament conference. Dr. John H. Finley, former state commissioner of education of New York and a committee representing the federal council of churches of Christ in America, calling to express their hopes, asked the president to designate Nov. 6, the Sunday preceding the meeting of the conference, as a day of special prayer; to suggest to the churches of America that services be held coincident with the assembling of the conference Nov. 11; to issue a proclamation to be read by the pastors in all churches Armistice day, and to use his influence to have sessions of the armament conference opened with prayer. The committee members said the president received their suggestions favorably.

Speaking for the Buddhists of Japan, Archbishop Sektzen Aral, abbot of the Buddhist temple of Sojiji, told Mr. Harding members of his religion in Japan were extremely hopeful for the success of the armament negotiations. The archbishop who made a special trip to America to convey his felicitations to the president, called at the White House clad in his religious robes and was presented by members of the staff of the Japanese embassy. In reply to his message, Mr. Harding sent his thanks to the archbishop's coreligionists in Japan.

LYNDHURST, N. J., Sept. 29.—Longer skirts and no silks or satins—this is the latest order to teachers issued by the Lyndhurst school board. The ban had been placed on expensive materials. PLAY PRESENTED AT COLONIAL THEATRE

"La Voleuse d'Enfants" is the title of the five-act drama which was presented before a large and appreciative audience at the Colonial theatre in Mid-dex street last evening by the members of Cercle National, a well known organization composed of French-speaking amateur actors of this city. It was the first appearance of the members of the troupe this season and if one is to judge by the success achieved last evening, it is fair to assume that it will not be the last. Each part was well sustained, the scenic effects were artistic and the affair as a whole was very satisfactory. The story of the play deals with a 12-months-old baby girl who is stolen from her crib by professional baby thieves. The mother, who is not lying with her husband, is charged with the theft and despite the fact that she denies her guilt, she is found guilty and sentenced to 20 years at hard labor. Twenty years later mother and daughter are reunited, but not until both had gone through a series of adventures. The play ends in a little romance in which the daughter plays the important role and the conclusion is a happy reunion. In the part of the mother Miss Yvonne Falardeau, who on several previous occasions has demonstrated her ability on the local stage, has once more shown that she is able to handle a leading part. Her work was very commendable. She was ably assisted by Albert Bernadette who made a decided hit as the lover. The others, who took part in the play and who deserve a goodly share of the credit for its suc-

False Claims.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

False claims may kill, but false claims can never restore your child.

CASTORIA

Mothers Must Use Care.

Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants.

Your druggist may not keep an imitation but they are to be found on drug-store shelves. Reliable druggists think only of the welfare of their customers. The other kind only of the greater profit to be made on imitations.

Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture.

Your same good judgment must tell you that these irresponsible imitators are trading on your credulity and the reputation built up by Mr. Fletcher, during all these years, for his Castoria.

SPANISH ARTILLERY IN ACTION

Prospects Bright for Early Completion of Emergency Relief Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Progress of the national conference on unemployment indicated today prospects for completion of an emergency relief program earlier than had been expected.

The conference adjourned on Monday until Oct. 5, when it is to receive reports from its sub-committees, but conferees said today that the work of shaping the reports was being accomplished so rapidly that it was believed most of them would be ready by the end of this week.

The question of public employment agencies was taken up today at the conference's public hearings.

Russell F. Phelps, director of labor statistics of the Massachusetts labor department, describing the workings of his state's employment system, said the hiring a worker through a state agency was $1.35 as against an average charge of $14 for a worker to obtain a position through a private agency. He said it was desirable at this time that employment service should be furnished without charge and suggested the best system would be for local authorities to have direct contact with the workers. Supervised by the state, he said, they could co-ordinate employment information and assist under the supervision and with the co-operation of the federal employment authorities.

Ledoux Before Committee
Urbain Ledoux, who has been championing the cause of the unemployed in Boston and New York, appeared before the committee, emphatically endorsed the expansion of federal employment agencies to handle the placing of workers and condemnation of private agencies, which he described as "parasites upon the backs of the unemployed."

SENATE DEBATE ON TREATIES

First Night Session, Held Last Evening Attracted Few Senators to Capitol

Sen. Kellogg, Republican, Only One to Speak—Democrats in Caucus

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The senate is to continue its debate on the new peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary at a session tonight, but unless more interest is displayed than was the case last night, when a session was held under a gentleman's agreement for debate only, republican leaders are expected to press for an early vote. Only 42 senators answered the roll call last night at 8 o'clock. A half hour then elapsed before any one took the floor and after Sen. Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, had spoken in support of the treaties for an hour adjournment was taken without anyone else entering the debate.

Action was expected to be speeded up, however, by the democratic caucus today when a final course may be decided on the treaty question. It has been indicated that as a result of an earlier caucus this action will not be binding as a party measure. Many democrats, it is understood, will oppose the treaties, as will Senator Borah of Idaho, and possibly a few other republicans.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. George Leo Collins and Miss Anita I. Collins were married late yesterday afternoon at the Sacred Heart rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O.M.I. The bride wore a gown of tulle and carried a large bouquet of white and pink roses. She was attended by Miss Florence Sabourin, who was attired in pink satin and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Harry F. Collins. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, 400 N. street, and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their home at 76 Otis street.

Berard-Melancon—Representative Adelard Berard and Miss Mildred Melancon were married at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at Notre Dame de Lourdes rectory by the pastor, Rev. Leon Lamotte, O.M.I. The bride wore white duchess satin trimmed with pearls and a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a large bouquet of white and pink roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Melancon, a sister of the bride, wore pink georgette with large picture hat to match and carried yellow roses. The best man was Mr. William Berard. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 274 Chalmers street, and later the couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York and Washington. Upon their return they will make their home at 274 Chalmers street.

FUNERALS

LANBERT—A large congregation attended the funeral services for the late Daniel Lambert, an old and highly respected resident of this city, which took place this morning at St. John Baptist church. The funeral cortege left the church at 9 o'clock and proceeded to the home of the deceased, Mrs. William Drapau, 17 Mt. Washington street and wended its way to the church, where at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated. The celebrant of the ceremony was a grandson of the deceased, Rev. William Drapau of Reading, who was assisted by Rev. Armand Baron, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. J. H. Brassard, O. M. I., as sub-deacon. Seated within the sanctuary were Very Rev. E. J. Turcotte, O. M. I., Rev. Charles Denzot, O. M. I., Rev. L. G. Hachard, O. M. I., all of the St. Louis church, and Rev. J. A. Gauthier, O. M. I., of the St. Joseph church. Attending the funeral were men representing all walks of life, while the children of the French-American orphanage were also in attendance. The choir, under the direction of Joseph Paradis, who also presided at the organ, rendered the Grand Mass of the Requiem, which was sung by the choir and soloists being: Dr. J. E. Nolet, Ernest J. Dupont, Henri Carufel, Francois Tremblay, Etienne Bernier and E. J. Laroche. At the offertory Mr. J. A. Gauthier, O. M. I., while at the elevation Mrs. Maria Jacques rendered the "O Mater Domini." After the communion Mr. Paradis sang "Gloria in excelsis deo" and at the close of the mass Miss Anna Martel rendered Schubert's "Farewell." The bearers were: Raul, Herve and Lucien Drapau, Edgar Lambert, and Lucien Gauthier. Attending the funeral from out of town were Henri Lambert, Sr., Henri Lambert, Jr., and Francois Lambert, all of Worcester; Mrs. Olivia Houle and Miss Houle of St. Louis; and Rev. Sister Lambert of the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph's hospital, Nashua, N. H., who was accompanied by seven other nuns from the hospital. There were numerous floral and spiritual offerings. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. J. A. Gauthier, assisted by Rev. J. H. Brassard. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

LOWELL TEAM WINS FROM HAVERHILL

The Lowell fire department baseball team defeated the Haverhill fire aggregation in Haverhill yesterday afternoon, the score being 8 to 4. The game was very interesting throughout and much of the credit for the winning of the game is due to Symonds, who occupied the box for the Lowell players and Connors, who did the receiving.

The Lowell players left the Central fire station in Middle street at 12:30 o'clock and accompanied by about 50 fans made a very enjoyable trip to the Shoe City. In the latter place they were well received by their brethren. At the close of the game the guests were entertained at the Haverhill central station, where supper was served and cigars were passed. At the close of the supper there were interesting remarks by Mayor Planders and Aldermen Martin, Johnson, Bartlett, Chief of Police B. Gordon of the fire department, Deputy Chief G. M. Whiting, Capt. W. J. Marston, Capt. E. A. George, Capt. Miles, Lieut. W. S. Hume, Unpled Ryan, recited in a pleasing manner "Casey at the Bat," while Capt. Flint and the firemen William Corbett and Peter Regan extended their thanks to the hosts in behalf of the Lowell visitors. The affair was brought to a close with a game of whist, stable prizes being awarded the winners. Lieut. Gordon of the Haverhill department acted as toastmaster at the reception.

After the baseball game there was a pool match between Lieut. Gordon of the local department and the captain of the Haverhill central station, the game being awarded to the Lowell "shark" who beat his opponent 5 to 3.

The Lowell lineup at baseball was as follows: Regan 2b, Thomas ss, Hammerly 3b, Symonds p, Christie cf, Donohue lf, Connors c, Rogers rf and Corbett lb.

Fire In Dracut

reached the premises the flames had spread to adjoining buildings and were making rapid headway towards the house. The lack of water in the district proved a big handicap to the firefighters, who were unable to save any of the buildings. While the flames were ravaging the barns, members of the Middle family as well as firemen and neighbors rushed the furniture to a place of safety, for it was evident at that time that the house could not be saved. Several horses and cows, which were in one of the stables, were led out to safety and only a calf perished.

The property was built over a hundred years ago by the Cheever family and was considered one of the oldest, if not the oldest, buildings in the town. From the Cheever family it passed into the hands of the Sickney family, and about seven years ago it was purchased by J. A. Matile, who since that time had improved it considerably. The cause of the fire could not be learned.

THREE BLASTS IN DYE HOUSE

Two Firemen Blown Some Distance by Explosions—All Windows Blown Out

BATH, Me., Sept. 28.—Herbert A. Douglass, the proprietor, was terribly burned, and several others had narrow escapes from injury today, when a gasoline explosion damaged to the extent of $10,000 the two-story block occupied by the Bath Steam Dye house at 165 Front street.

Douglass, whose clothing was burned off, was rushed to the hospital in a serious condition. Miss Elizabeth McKay, the only other occupant of the place, escaped uninjured.

The first explosion was followed by two others after the arrival of the firemen. Chief Engineer Charles E. Parks was blown down a waste hole and Assistant Engineer Scott Morse was blown some distance. Neither was injured beyond cuts and bruises.

A wooden addition was lifted into a V shape and the roof split. All the windows and frames of both floors of the block were blown out. The cause of the first explosion was unknown.

Fight In Local Mill

man's story, as told to the superintendent and later repeated to the police, at the sight of the watchman started to run in the direction of the stairway. Joyce gave chase. Both men ran to the street door, where Whipple made an attempt to open the door leading out on to Davidson street. He succeeded in unbolting one lock but before he could unfasten the lower bolt, the watchman was in sight. Whipple, afraid of being caught, opened the gate leading to the basement, and fled into the cellar. Joyce chased him into the boiler room, where a fierce encounter took place. The watchman states that Whipple put up such a hard fight that to save himself and to make sure the former would not get away, Joyce seized a shovel and struck Whipple in the face.

A watchman in a nearby mill hearing the screams of the two men telephoned the police. Joyce had subdued Whipple in the meantime and was awaiting the arrival of the officers.

Sergeant McManmon and Officer Sherrin went to the scene and placed Whipple under arrest. He was originally charged with drunkenness but when the court was informed of the early morning occurrence he ordered the accused held while an investigation would be made. He was then placed under $300 bonds. Later in the morning, however, when more details were learned an additional charge of destroying property with malicious intent was lodged against him and bail was set at $5000. He was unable to secure bonds and was locked up at the station.

Whipple presented a pitiful appearance. His face was covered with cuts and bruises and he appeared to have been engaged in a fierce physical battle. His hearing was also apparently affected. He was unable to hear the judge and clerk speak to him and an officer had to shout in his ear what was being said to him.

Before court arraignment, was secreted with Captain Atkinson and inspectors, and denied the story told by Watchman John Joyce. He said he was walking along the street outside of the mill structure when suddenly the watchman came out of a door and hit him in the face with a shovel. He said he knew of nothing else until he found himself in a cell later. He denied having entered the mill.

Turkish women of the Moslem religion have been forbidden to appear on the stage.

Cracked by Jar of Building Operations.

As a result of this sewer backing up a few days ago and flooding the cellar of the Parker block, in Middle street, an investigation by the sewer department showed a serious condition to exist in the 12-inch main in City Hall avenue. Emergency work which will involve quite a sum of money was begun today to repair the damage and to fit the sewer to properly carry on its work.

It was found a great portion of the main had become cracked, the result of work done on the new Harrisonia hotel building, according to Commissioner Murphy and City Engineer Kearney.

It will be necessary to lay at least 75 feet of new pipe at once to remedy the trouble, is Mr. Kearney's opinion. An order will be introduced into the municipal council tomorrow asking for an appropriation and permission to carry on the work.

This sewer is one of the most important in the city as it drains the entire downtown section and also taking care of much of the business section.

The exact cost of the work cannot be determined at the present time but after a thorough investigation the conditions worse than first expected. The work, however, will entail a great deal of labor as the sewer at this point is about 14 feet deep.

It has been noted for some time past the sewer was not working properly and efforts have been made to rectify conditions. A week or so before a heavy rainfall it was found the cellar of the Parker block was flooded in some parts to a depth of five feet.

A temporary relief was effected but when a more thorough investigation was made the above conditions were found to exist. The job was considered an emergency one and workmen were at once detailed to work on the project.

CITY ENGINEER MAKES REPORT

some other solution satisfactory to both parties will be arrived at to present to the municipal council after Mr. Kearney's present report is submitted and approved.

Solution to Problem

Mr. Kearney's solution to the problem is as follows: A solution of the present difficulty, whereby the contractors can continue their work and at the same time carry on traffic is to open the outboard rail for the street railway cars only, open up the inboard rail and two feet outside of it for immediate construction, leaving enough of the old roadway for vehicular traffic. After both rails and the downstream sidewalk are completed and ready for travel, the remainder of the bridge can then be closed for the completion of the contract.

This solution does not appeal to the construction company. They want the remainder of the bridge closed and say if it is done, work can be completed by Christmas time. Otherwise it will drag on for several months.

A one-way traffic problem was discussed by Engineers Kearney and Erickson and the former agreed to a one-way traffic for a certain period. This would not be possible for vehicular traffic according to the construction company as it would leave only one car track and a couple of space feet for travel. It might be all right in the case of touring cars but trucks would not be able to pass, according to Mr. Erickson. Added to this, travel would be too dangerous and the company would not want to assume the chance of accidents.

Wier and Regan Clash

Mr. Wier and City Solicitor Regan clashed once or twice on the phraseology of the contract. Mr. Regan maintained the council never attempted to change the phraseology of the contract. In regard to keeping open one-half of the bridge, he contended the contract as drawn up must be lived up to and that as it was down in black and white the contracting forces should have been

BIDS OPEN ON HEATING PLANT EXTENSION

Commissioner of Public Property George E. Marchand has announced bids are open for the extension of the heating plant of the Morey school. The bids will close Saturday noon.

Including the 11 room addition just completed there are 26 rooms to be supplied with heat. In the old building there are eight rooms to which have been added four others.

The eight rooms have been heated by a steam boiler while the addition of four were heated by two furnaces. The latest addition has a plant large enough to heat the whole building and it is to this plant the extension to the other 12 rooms will be made.

The matter in one which means quite a bit to the city for it is not through the two furnaces and the boiler in the eight-room section will not be used. It will mean the maintenance of but one heating plant instead of three.

GEORGE POLLEY HERE TONIGHT

George Polley, "Human Fly" extraordinary and hero of many dare-devil climbs up the sides of skyscrapers and other elevations without the use of ladders or ropes, will be seen in sensational moving pictures at the Paramount Square theatre this evening. Polley and his manager arrived in Lowell today and will be at the theatre tonight.

He said no attempt has been made to specify how much of the bridge should be worked on, only that enough of it be left open for traffic.

Mr. Wier contended that when the company took the contract it did not know the car tracks would have to be left open and as the second track made a dividing line in one-half of the structure it would be necessary to do the work in three parts under the present arrangement.

Council Too Sensible

Mr. Wier said the work should be done in two sections and that it would be a great benefit to the people if the bridge would be closed for a short while and have the work done in less time. He said he thought the council was too sensitive on what the public thought. And if the public could realize the importance of closing the bridge it would put up with conditions.

Mayor Thompson said the rights of the other bidders should be protected in the matter. "If they know the work could have been accomplished in two sections some of their bids might have been lower," he said.

After much talk Mayor Thompson suggested the council was not getting anywhere by haggling and thought something more productive to reaching a satisfactory end should be done.

Mr. Erickson then suggested all of the bridge with the exception of the middle be done first and this could be rapidly completed after the rest was done.

William A. Driscoll, who also represented the contractors wanted some decision arrived at today. Mr. Kearney, however, said he must have sufficient time to investigate any proposed changes so he could give a better opinion on the work. But he allowed he was agreeable to any plan which lived up to the terms of the contract and at the same time facilitated the work under way. He also pointed out certain changes would have to be made in the gas and sewer pipes. Commissioner Murphy said plans were ready for alteration in this branch as soon as they were needed.

After the conference Mr. Wier and the construction representatives admitted their suggestion would meet with defeat in the council but they would file protests as a token of protest. They claim they have good grounds for an argument in asking the request be made and intend to see them through.

Two other matters were also threshed out with the sub-committee, composed of Commissioner Murphy, City Solicitor Regan and City Engineer Kearney regarding sub-contracts and certain compensation the company should receive for new work developed since the contract was signed. The construction company asked the same percentage be allowed them for the month of August as was allowed in July. On the July bill $3500 was allowed out of $5000 or 70 per cent. In August the same amount was allowed out of $5000.

Mr. Driscoll claims the company has $15,000 coming while the city officials think this estimate too high. It is probable an added amount will be allowed for the month of August about $2500 being the sum generally mentioned. This will also be brought up before the council tomorrow, it is thought.

Moore's Not Present

Professor Moore, consulting engineer, was unable to be present but was in touch with Mr. Kearney, and the following letter, to be submitted to the council tomorrow, has his approval of a solution:

Lowell, Mass., Sept. 29, 1921.

To the Municipal Council:

Gentlemen: The Engineering and Construction company on Sept. 28, 1921, through their attorneys, makes the following request regarding Central bridge: That as soon as the work has been finished on the part which has been under construction and as soon as that part is suitable for travel, that the remainder of the bridge be closed in order to permit the Engineering Service and Construction company to complete its contract.

To close the remainder of the bridge, as requested, would not leave room for (to quote the contract) "traffic at all times." Therefore I would say that the request is an unreasonable one.

At the present time the difficulty whereby the contractors can continue their work and at the same time carry on traffic, is to open the outboard rail for the street railway cars only, open up the inboard rail and two (2) feet outside of it for immediate construction, leaving enough of the old roadway for vehicular traffic. After both rails and the downstream sidewalk are completed and ready for travel, the remainder of the bridge can then be closed for the completion of the contract.

Respectfully submitted,

STEPHEN KEARNEY,
City Engineer.

Petitions Ask Disbarment of Coakley, Corcoran and McIsaac, Prominent Members of Boston Bar

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The disbarment of Daniel H. Coakley, William J. Corcoran and Daniel V. McIsaac, attorneys of this city, was asked in petitions filed with the supreme court today by the Boston Bar Association. All were charged with unprofessional conduct.

All three attorneys are locally prominent. Coakley's name figured in the Mishavum Manor phase of the recent trial of District Attorney Nathan Tuffs of Middlesex county, when it was testified that he received $25,000 to stop litigation growing out of a road-

SUITS AT $15 REMIND OF DAYS BEFORE THE WAR

Merrimack Clothing Company Selling Hand Tailored Suits at This Figure

When the Merrimack Clothing company, across from City Hall, launched its unique money-saving campaign a few weeks ago, little did they think it would be possible to offer the public clothing for less money than before the war. But like a bolt from a clear sky, one of their best manufacturers of fine clothes (whose name they are not allowed to mention in their advertisement) sold them all the odd suits in their stock and the Merrimack will pass them out while they last at $15. The name of the manufacturer is on every garment and every suit is worth double and triple the price.

In addition, you will find Men's Ulster Overcoats, Bales Street Shirts, Silk Neckwear, Sweaters, Boys' Mackinaws, Odd Pants and Ladies' Sweaters, all offered for two days, Friday and Saturday only at prices that perhaps most of us never dreamed possible.

A description of these startling money-saving opportunities will be found in their advertisement which appears on page 10, and if you want to save some real money we advise reading every word of the Ad. and then go to the Merrimack Friday and Saturday. The goods are displayed in their windows today.—Adv.

Request of Construction Co. to Close Bridge Temporarily Will Be Refused By Municipal Council

The Engineering Service Construction company has lost out in its request to the municipal council to have the Central bridge closed to traffic during the remainder of the time necessary to complete repairs on the bridge. While the order would not technically close the bridge to all traffic, only one sidewalk and a car lane would be available, leaving vehicular traffic out of consideration. While the matter has not yet come before the council, a letter presented

One of the oldest landmarks of the town of Dracut was wiped out by fire this forenoon when the home and three barns on the old Stickney estate off Willard street, about a half mile from the Centre village, which were owned by J. A. Maffio, a former resident of this city, were burned to the ground. A calf was burned to death, farming implements and several tons of hay were destroyed. Members of the family with the assistance of firemen and neighbors managed to save the furniture from the home. The loss is estimated at several thousand dollars.

The fire started in the main barn and when it was discovered the flames were shooting through the roof of the building. An alarm was quickly sent in for the Centre department, but when the firefighters

Romance and Riches Figure in a Dispute Over a Copper Mine

THIS IS RAINBOW HALLIDAY—ALICE CALHOUN—HEROINE OF A DRAMA IN WHICH HER LOVE AND THE OWNERSHIP OF A MINE ARE AT STAKE.

By N.E.A. Service
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Rainbow Halliday is a girl who owns a rich copper mine. Or rather she thinks she owns it.

She meets the handsome George Standish. He owns the mine, but she doesn't know it.

She learns to love Standish, and when she finds he is engaged to another girl—and she simultaneously learns that the mine really belongs to him—she is willing to sacrifice both love and riches.

Then the "other woman" steps in. And there is jealousy and bitterness. And Rainbow changes her mind and runs off with the mine.

And in the end Standish realizes which is the "right girl."

That's the story of Alice Calhoun's newest film vehicle.

Miss Calhoun is starred as "Rainbow Halliday" in the picture, "Rainbow." That is her name and it is also the name of the mine.

It is a story of the conflict between love and riches.

In it Miss Calhoun has the opportunity to display her art in the sudden transformation from the girl of the mining town, who knows nothing of the splendors of cities and the

lure of fine clothes to the beautiful young woman of the city.

As the little country girl she had been treated like a child by Standish. Hers was an unrequited love, and when she discovers that the copper mine her father had left her really belonged to him, she was unselfish enough to wish him to have it to make him happy.

But she didn't bargain for the cold, callous Estelle Jackson—the woman Standish was to marry. Nor the three old friends of her father—who were her foster "daddies." The former was going to take the mine away from Rainbow, and the latter were determined she should keep it.

Everything ends happily when Standish comes seeking her, not to force his claim to the disputed mine, but to ask her to marry him.

Movies: $5 Per Seat

Would you pay $5 to see a movie? That's the price charged at the world premiere of "Peter Ibbotson," the first picture of the De Murrer novel, at the Hotel Plaza in New York. The 15-showing was arranged between Paramount and the Film Musical Bureau.

The picture, which is released by Vitaphone, Jack Roach plays the part of Standish, Cecil Kern is Estelle, and William Gross, Charles Kent and Tom O'Malley are the foster "daddies."

Fees charged for these locations are contributed to Anne Morgan's American committee for devastated France and the maternity center of New York. Proceeds of the "Peter Ibbotson" premiere go to the same charities.

Where All the Marks Go

Is Germany broke? Not as far as motion pictures are concerned. According to "Leichtblau," the capital in investment in the German film industry last January 1 was $8,751,000 marks, and on July 1 the amount had risen to 132,035,500 marks.

Cinegrams

Ann Forest is in Franco filming "Love's Homecoming."

Thomas Meighan's next vehicle will be "A Prodigal Daddy."

Pearl White has finished the Fox picture "Open Your Eyes."

Henry Arthur Jones' "Beyond," starring Ethel Clayton, is out.

Mary Pickford, says rumor, has bought back motion picture rights to "Boss of the Storm Country," one of her early successes.

Gloria Davenport, daughter of the late Homer Davenport, famous cartoonist, has a role in Rex Ingram's film, "Turn to the Right."

Nazimova is going to try repertory in film production, her first step being picture of Oscar Wilde's "Salome" and Ibsen's "A Doll's House."

PRIZE DANCING

AT THE KASINO

All indications point to a great crowd at the Kasino tonight when the children of Lowell and vicinity meet in a championship waltz. These little tots have been in the eyes of the people for several months and no little friendly rivalry has sprung up. The culmination of this rivalry will take place tonight when, under the auspices of the Lowell Printing Pressmen, they meet and compete for prizes and amateur championship of Lowell.

Campbell's orchestra, which has been playing wonderful music all summer, will play for general dancing and for the contest. Mr. Thomas Carlin will entertain with many songs.

AL DIAMOND BUSY

Al Diamond, the crack Lowell flyweight, has been busy by his manager Lou Briz for two hours. On Friday night at the Rialto, he fought against Lou Briz. He won by a knockout in the fourth round.

Since Diamond has placed himself under the management of Lou Briz, he has been kept very busy.

"My health used to be so bad that it was just all I could do to drag myself off to work in the morning; but since taking Tanlac I can work hard all day and still feel rested when night comes," said George N. Hunter, 38 Nelson st., Springfield, Mass.

"About a year ago I noticed my strength was leaving me, and I soon got to where I could hardly finish my day's work. My appetite was very poor, almost nothing to eat was enough for me, and I began to lose weight. I had had attacks of indigestion, especially if I tried to eat anything heavy, and was often so weak and dizzy everything seemed to spin around me, and I could hardly stand. I had severe headaches and was constantly losing time from my work."

"Well, I was under special treatment twice, but Tanlac was the only thing that helped me. I'm now eating my three big meals every day and never feel a touch of indigestion. I've gained several pounds in weight, all my aches and pains have left me and I feel better and stronger than I have in a long time. Tanlac certainly is wonderful, and I gladly praise it to everybody."

Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills are sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative; by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; A. D. Fells, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass.; and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

WILL VISIT CEMETERY

C.M.A.C. Members Will Make Pilgrimage to St.

Joseph's Cemetery

The annual pilgrimage of the members of the C.M.A.C. to St. Joseph's cemetery will be held next Sunday and, as in previous years, the affair will be conducted on a large scale.

The afternoon's program will consist of a procession from the hall of the association in Pawtucket street to St. Joseph's church in Lee street, where a Libera will be chanted, the church service to be followed by a ride on special electric cars to the cemetery, where appropriate exercises will be held.

The members of the C.M.A.C. will assemble at their hall at 12.30 o'clock and at 1 o'clock, headed by Marshal Albert Simard and Assistant Marshal Herve Genest, the men will march to the church via Merrimack street, the United States Cartridge Co. band to furnish music. At the church a Libera will be chanted by Rev. L. G. Bachand, O.M.I., chaplain of the association, and a special musical program will be given by the choir under the direction of Telephore Melo.

Upon leaving the church the pilgrims will board special electric cars in John street and will journey to the corner of Gorham and Centre streets. From there they will march to the cemetery. The sermon at the cemetery will be delivered by Rev. Fr. Emery, O.M.I., of Notre Dame de Lourdes church and former rector of the Ottawa university. Prayers will be recited for the deceased members and a volley will be fired by a squad of ex-service men, all members of the association, commanded by Lieut. George Poirer.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of the following: Frank Cayer, chairman; Albert Simard, Herve Genest, Isidore Tetreault, Romeo Lozeau and Joseph A. N. Chretien, ex-officio.

FOOTBALL CHALLENGE

The Try-Out football squad challenges the Warringtons for a game Sunday afternoon at 2.30 on the North common. If the challenge is accepted, photo $500.00. The following players will report for practice: O'Brien, Ashe, McKillop, Pappas, Treville, Glenivan, Padden, McCarthy, Henry, Gaudette, Lefebvre, O'Leary and Reark on the North common tonight at 6 o'clock. We wish to challenge any 120-pound squad in the city or outside the city.

Greater Prosperity

Us, Says Davis

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 21.—The greatest prosperity ever is just around the corner, Secretary of Labor Davis declared today.

"It will not be a return to normal but a sweep beyond that to the highest pitch of good times," Davis said. "I can see the greatest era of prosperity the United States has ever known near at hand. We are on the verge of it."

Davis was scheduled to address the annual convention of the American Insurance Union here tonight. He is an official of the union.

ARBUCKLE OUT ON $5000 BAIL

Murder Charge Dropped, But Movie Comedian Is Held for Manslaughter

Judge Sees No Evidence of Murder—Regrets All Evidence Not Presented

District Attorney Moves to Start Trial on Manslaughter Charge in Few Days

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, at liberty today on $5000 bond after a two weeks' preliminary hearing on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, will be tried on a charge of manslaughter within a few days, if present plans of Matthew Brady, district attorney, materialize.

Two such charges are pending against Arbuckle—one being placed yesterday when at the conclusion of the hearing before Sylvian J. Lazarus, police judge, the murder charge was

Arbuckle regained his freedom shortly after the preliminary hearing was ended. He already had on deposit $5000 bail in connection with the indictment and this was transferred to cover the proceedings arising from Mrs. Delmont's complaint. On the grand jury accusation he was placed on his own recognizance to return Oct. 3.

Brady Attacks Judge

"FATTY" ARBUCKLE

it to bring Arbuckle to trial on the Delmont complaint, as modified yesterday by Judge Lazarus.

The district attorney in a long statement last night said that Judge Lazarus had accorded Arbuckle's case unusual treatment and charged that "if Roscoe Arbuckle were known and unimportant, he would have been held for murder and treated precisely the same as were other defendants of disrepute."

While the formalities of bail were being arranged, Arbuckle went back to the city prison, where he has been for the last 15 days.

Coming out of his cell with an overflowing armful of clothing, his face took on a more cheerful look. After he had piled the clothes into a suitcase, newspaper photographers started to take pictures of him and a smile began to creep over his countenance. As a balloon-like cloud of flashlight smoke rose toward the ceiling he gazed toward it with almost a grin.

"Roll a cigarette with one hand when we take the next snap," suggested one of the photographers.

"I can't," he replied, "it's the other Arbuckle that does that."

Women Rush to Shake-His Hand

As court adjourned a dozen women rushed forward to shake Arbuckle's hand. As he went into the judge's chambers, his wife, Mrs. Mildred Arbuckle, collapsed, and he held her up and quieted her in an affectionate manner. Her mother, Mrs. Flora Durfee, meanwhile smoothed the hair back from the comedian's forehead.

The well-known Arbuckle smile did not appear, however, and he merely said "Thank you" in response to the handshakes and greetings of "Congratulations, Roscoe" from various people.

Assistant District Attorney Milton T. U'Ren and leader Golden asked Judge Lazarus if he placed no credence of Miss Rappe's cries, "He hurt me" or the screams heard by the hotel maid, but the court said they "were not sufficient to implicate Arbuckle in the commission of a crime." The district attorney's aids also contended that the court could only either hold the defendant to answer for murder or dismiss the case altogether, but Judge Lazarus said that was not his understanding of the law.

The Judge's View of the Case

When the hearing was resumed yesterday Judge Lazarus began a discussion of the case.

"We need not disguise the fact that this is an important case," he said. "In my opinion we are not trying Roscoe Arbuckle alone, the screen celebrity who has given mirth to the world. We are, in a sense, trying ourselves, our morals, our present day social standards. The question is larger than the guilt of this unfortunate. It is a universal issue."

"The affair was the culmination of an orgy at one of our leading hotels. An orgy unexpressed by the management is, I take it, a common thing in our big cities."

"I had really hoped that this court would be the avenue for full and complete revelation of all the facts, so the public of the entire world would have the opportunity to ascertain this widely known defendant's guilt or innocence."

"The testimony heard shows that during the whole afternoon there went on, let us charitably say, festivities. Men and women were coming and going so that witnesses were unable to say who were the occupants at any particular hour."

"Much liquor was drunk and the complaining witness in particular was in an inebriated condition."

No Sounds Heard By Others

"Miss Rappe, according to the picture I have tried to draw of the event, went into room 319 of this hotel, followed without previous conversation, by the defendant."

"They remained in there about three-quarters of an hour, according to Miss Zeh Prevost's testimony. No sounds were heard by the rest of the party."

"Then the complaining witness and Miss Prevost made a clamor at the door, which was opened by the defendant, and the two ladies entered the room."

"They found Miss Rappe lying on a bed fully clothed and apparently in agony. She was clutching at her clothing and with the assistance of her women companions she was completely disrobed. I thought some of the torn garments might bear on the point at issue, but from the prosecution's own witnesses it appears they must have been torn in being removed."

Assistant District Attorney Golden interrupted with the assertion that the evidence showed one of the garments must have been torn on.

Only One Nurse Seen

"Photographs of bruises on Miss Rappe's body were introduced, but Dr. Arthur Hardslee, who attended her, saw only one on the arm. Undoubtedly if there had been others on the body he would have noticed them."

"Semmner's testimony was entirely valueless and two days of court time was taken in fruitless hearing him."

"Although there were indications that the district attorney at a trial would try to show a more complete case, there was the merest skeleton of evidence here to connect the defendant with the crime of murder, the most serious offense known in criminal law."

The question for me to decide is whether the facts adduced, which the district attorney admits are 'barely enough to warrant a holding, are Tribune, was announced today.

enough to justify a murder charge, and I do not believe so.

"There is enough in the defendant's actions in the affair, however, to warrant a manslaughter charge, and I will hold him on this. I feel that no rape, or attempted rape, was committed by the defendant."

Italian King, Violently Attacked by Rome Paper

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Violent attacks upon the Duke d'Aosta, cousin of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, by the newspaper Il Paese di Rome, has created a great sensation in that city, says a Rome despatch to the London Times. The newspaper charges the duke with inspiring and protecting the Fascist, or extreme nationalist, and striving to gain the throne, with the support of certain generals and other officers.

DISCUSS CARELESSNESS AS FIRE BREAKS OUT

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Arthur H. Young, manager of industrial relations of the International Harvester Co., Chicago, was elected president of the National Safety Council yesterday. Other officers will be chosen at the next meeting of the executive committee.

While delegates to the convention were discussing means of preventing fires and accidents due to carelessness, in various sectional meetings yesterday, fire was discovered in the room at the state house used by the public utilities section of the council. The blaze, which state house officials said probably was caused by a match or cigar, burned the room slightly before it was extinguished by an attendant.

Safety will be taught in the public schools of Syracuse and Rochester, N. Y., Cleveland and Detroit, as well as continued in St. Louis, advised received by the council from those cities said today.

POLICE LOOKING FOR STOLEN AUTOS

The Red automobile of Mr. Dennis Rostler, stolen from a parking space on Merrimack street at about nine o'clock last night, has not been recovered and the police are searching for the car.

The police are also looking for a Ford automobile reported stolen in Manchester, N. H., last night, and thought by the police of that city to be on its way here.

Charles Rangos, of 163 Market st., notified the police today that several boys in an automobile jack and a coat vest from his car while he was working at changing a tire on Hurst street last night.

Five Large Collieries in Northern England to Close in Near Future

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Five large collieries in northern England have given notice that the mines will close in the near future. Wilbur J. Page, commercial attaché at London, cabled today. The properties include the Redheugh, Lintzgen, Gathfield, Ellington and Ravensworth. The action of the mine owners is attributed to the chaotic condition of the markets. More than 50,000 miners are thrown out of work.

MOTOR REGISTRY TO BE MOVED NOV. 1

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—In spite of the opposition of automobile owners and the 800 clerks affected, the governor's council yesterday refused to rescind its previous action in approving the plans for transfer of the motor vehicle registry from the state house to Commonwealth pier.

After the council gave its preliminary approval two weeks ago, a storm of protest arose. The clerks in the registry threatened to strike if the change was put through, and held to that position in the face of all arguments presented as to the benefits of the change. Later the clerks were backed up by the Bay State Automobile Association and affiliated organizations.

Adventures of the Twins

TUB GOES FREE

"I BELIEVE THEY SERVE YOU UP AT HOTELS WITH A RICH SAUCE"

All this time Nancy and Nick were tugging at the net in which they had caught Tub Terrapin, and now they started to swim away with him through Briny ocean, to hang the big net back on the hooks on the pound-poles from which they had taken it. But Cap'n Pennywinkle stopped them. "Hold on, hold on, kiddies," he commanded, waving his stick. "I'll have to hear more of Tub Terrapin's story before I hurry him off where Mr. Fisherman can get him. You know, Tub, don't you, that Mr. Fisherman has been trying to get a hold of you for a month or Sundays? He can sell you for $25, as you are very special. I believe they serve you at hotels with a rich sauce and you are considered quite delicious."

"How could you do him a favor by lying here like a ton of coal, right on top of Spike Stagnah?" "Because Mr. Fisherman doesn't like Spike," nodded Tubby. "And if you'll take my word for it and let me go, I'll come back in a month and show you why."

"Very well!" replied the fairy policeman. "So be it! Kiddies, let Tub out and take home the net. Then come back and help me get this stupid old swordfish out of trouble as fast as you can. You know he struck his long sharp nose right through the trunk of a seaweed tree."

BURNING AUTO

MYSTERY SOLVED

George Trott of 43 West Fourth street has notified the police of this city and Billerica that he was the operator of the National touring car that was burned on a road near the pumping station in Billerica Centre early yesterday morning. He stated that he was on his way to summon the fire department in another automobile when the firemen went to the scene by another route answering a call by telephone sent in by somebody in the neighborhood. The automobile, which was completely destroyed above the frame, was the property of Ernest F. Trott of 42 Fourth street, a brother of the driver. The Lowell authorities and Constable Livingston of Billerica were at a loss as to what to make of the fire yesterday, their opinion being that the car had either been stolen or set on fire purposely to collect insurance. Mr. Trott told the police he cannot account for the fire, other than the fact that the machine suddenly became stalled and burst into flames, he immediately jumping out and looking for somebody to help him combat the blaze as his efforts alone had proven fruitless.

In this city October 10, at which time various members of the local fire department will visit public and parochial schools and address the children on fire, its causes and losses.

FAILED TO RECOVER HER HEALTH AFTER INFLUENZA ATTACK

People who are still suffering from
the effects of influenza will be interested in the experience of Mrs. William Sanphy, of No. 153 Oxford street, Portland, Maine.

"I had an attack of influenza two years ago this fall," says Mrs. Sanphy.
"Ever since that sickness I had been weak and run down. I tried many medicines but nothing seemed to give
more than temporary help. I was tired
all the time, even after a night's sleep.
My heart was affected so that the
slightest effort caused it to beat rapidly
and this worried me a great deal, for I was almost convinced that I had some kind of heart trouble. My appetite was poor and my stomach was upset. I did not have any energy or ambition and my nerves were unstrung."
"My father had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with benefit and he was a firm believer in the remedy so I decided to try them. One week after I began taking the pills I was convinced that they were helping me so I kept on with
the treatment. The violent, irregular beating of my heart no longer bothered
me for now it seems to be quite normal
again. I eat and sleep well and have gained strength and ambition. I strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to those who suffer from general debility."

Those who are interested may obtain the pamphlet "Building Up the Blood"

ous literary names like De Maupassant,
Balzac and others.

of Guy de Maupassant's "The Orderly."
exhibitors how to exploit the picture.
Its essence is in this paragraph:

BALLY-HO

Make a noise about De Maupassant
—he is a world-famous writer of short stories that have that pep and spice!
Of course he was—prior to his death
28 years ago!

It isn't necessary for advertising purposes, to make a noise about the fact that he spent the last year or so
of his life in an insane asylum.
Viewing "The Orderly," you find
both "pep and spice." You also find
the role of Jeanne, the unhappy wife
of a colonel who secretly loves a captain's mistress with a vengeance, by a mere orderly—in the capable hands of Madame Nathalie Kovanko, the Russian actress.

An elderly colonel promises a dying
friend to take care of his daughter.
When the girl is old enough he suggests marriage and she consents, not
for love but in gratitude.

Then she meets a handsome young captain. There are many secret meetings, but at each the omniscient Philippe, the colonel's orderly, is spying.
The orderly offers to carry her letters to her lover. Thus she puts herself in his power. And the orderly, taking advantage of this, tells the captain's wife that he loves her, too,
and if she repulses him he will betray
her secret to the colonel.

The wife takes the easiest way out—death. A letter of confession reaches the colonel after her death. Immediately he sends for his orderly.
"Tell me the name of my wife's lover,"
he demands.

The man hesitates.
"Quickly, his name!"
A second time the orderly hesitates
—and is lost!
Now what do you suppose happens next? He shoots the traitor, making everybody as happy as possible under
the circumstances.

ESKIMOS LIKE CHARLIE

Charlie Chaplin is the Eskimos' hero,
says Robert Brunton: "When a Chap-
lin picture is shown at Nome, Alaska,
the news spreads among the Eskimos,
and fathers and mothers with their children and paposes come into town
from the ice fields. They pay the admission price, but refuse to enter the theater. They insist on standing at the entrance to watch the performance. None ever cracks a smile while the picture is on. They laugh after it's over, spending five minutes laughing and slapping each other on the
back."

Opinions Conflicting Along
Party Lines Presented By Committee Members

Republicans Clear New-
bury Of All Charges—
Democrats Condemn Him

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Opinions
conflicting along party lines were presented today by the majority and minority members of the senate privileges and elections committee on the Ford-Newberry 1918 senatorial election contest from Michigan.

The majority report cleared Senator
Truman H. Newberry, the republican candidate, of corruption and all other charges, and recommended that he be legally seated. The democratic members on the contrary, asserted that Senator Newberry was elected by "corrupt and illegal methods and practices"
and recommended that his seat be declared vacant.

With the filing of the reports the
case now goes to the senate for final decision which will probably not be made for several weeks. In the meantime, it is understood, Senator Newberry will not attend the senate sessions.

On only two major issues were the republicans and democrats in harmony in the reports filed today. They agreed that Henry Ford, the democratic contestant, had not been elected and was not entitled to the seat from Michigan. They also agreed that too much money had been spent in the Michigan primary. The democrats, however, contended that Senator Newberry was responsible personally for the expenditures while the republicans held he was not.

Majority Report

Recommendations of the majority report submitted by Senator Spencer, republican, Missouri, who conducted the committee investigation and recount, were: "That the contest of Henry Ford against Truman H. Newberry be,
and it is hereby, dismissed."

"That Truman H. Newberry is hereby declared to be a duly elected
senator from the state of Michigan for
the term of six years commencing on
the fourth day of March, 1923."

"That his qualification for a seat
in the senate of the United States, to which he has been elected, has been conclusively established, and the
made against him in this proceeding,
both as to his election and qualification, are not sustained."

Minority Report

Conclusions of the minority, presented by Senator Pomerene, democrat,
Ohio, and signed also by Senators King,
Utah, and Ashurst of Arizona, were:
"That the irregularities complained of do not relate to the general election, but to the primary. Henry Ford did not receive a plurality of the votes cast at the general election. He, therefore, and that the petitioner, Henry Ford, was not elected and is not entitled to a seat in the senate of the United States."

"We find that under the facts and circumstances of this case corrupt and
illegal methods and practices were employed at the primary election and that Truman H. Newberry violated the corrupt practices act and the primary act
of the state of Michigan, and that by reason thereof, he ought not to have or
hold a seat in the senate of the United States and that he is not the duly elected senator from the state of Michigan for the term of six years commencing on the fourth day of March, 1923, and we recommend, therefore, that his seat
be declared vacant."

A separate minority report also was submitted by Senator Ashurst, who declared Senator Newberry's credentials were "tainted by fraud and tainted by illegal expenditures of money." The testimony showed, he said, that the 1918 Michigan campaign "partook more of the character of an auction than an election."

Claims of Mr. Ford to the Michigan seat were denied by both majority and
minority members on the same grounds
—that all charges against Sen. Newberry related to the primary and not the general election and that it was established conclusively that in the general election, Sen. Newberry had received a majority of the votes. Mr.
Ford's charges of bribery, intimidation, fraud, undue influence and intimidation
of voters in the general election was declared by the majority to be without foundation."

AT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Referendum No. 4 is on and the polls were open bright and early this morning when the mall men came around with letters from the chamber of commerce, addressed to members and containing ballots that read
as follows:

"Question:—Do you favor the establishment of a municipal gas plant in Lowell, either by construction of such
a plant or by purchase of the Lowell
Gas Light company's plant? (Yes)
(No) Make a cross after Yes or No,
detach and return to the chamber of commerce in the enclosed envelope on or before Tuesday, October 4, 1921."

Votes are expected to come in tonight and tomorrow in goodly number. At noon no replies had been received to the chamber's request, and some fear was expressed that some members might not forward ballots
for fear their actual opinion of the merits of the municipal ownership plan might be made known before they had really decided upon the best course to take in making a final decision. However, as the ballots do not call for name signatures, it is hoped that every member of the chamber
will respond to the committee's request for votes, as it is absolutely necessary to secure the organization's position upon the initiative petition.

The chamber hopes to secure a number of early entries in the $200
prize photograph contest before closing the competition, which has been extended one month. The list to date is very satisfactory and many of the photographs sent in show splendid individual work and attention to details. The chamber, however,
wants more entrants and pictures, and
amateur photographers are urged to send in their photographs of Lowell
and vicinity as soon as possible.

foot wireless tower at Tokyo, Japan.

COMMITTEE TO FIND JOBS FOR BAY STATE MEN

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Announcement
was made yesterday afternoon by Gov.
Cox of the names of those who will constitute the Massachusetts committee to promote employment. In making public the list the governor's office
stated that acceptances had been received from all whose names are given.

It will be the purpose of this committee to endeavor to meet the problem caused by the lack of employment
of a large number of men and women
of the state. The date of the first meeting of the committee has not yet been decided upon. It will probably come early next week, according to H.
A. MacDonald, secretary to Governor
Cox.

A greater part of the committee are residents of this city or vicinity. The committee includes:

Howard Conkey, chairman; Stalo
Treasurer James Jackson, secretary;
Cardinal O'Connell, Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, Rabbi Samuel J. Abrams of Brookline, Mayor Andrew J. Peters,
Charles A. Andrews, Mrs. Charles
Sumner Bird, William M. Butler of
New Bedford, Arthur R. Chapin, Gen.
Charles H. Cole, state commander
of the American Legion, Richard K.
Conant, commissioner of public welfare; Henry S. Dennison of Framing-
ham, Carl Dreyfus, J. S. Driscoll,
James T. Duane, Mrs. George Fearing,
R. G. Fessenden, Mrs. Susan Fitzger-
ald, Paul E. Fitzpatrick, John W.
Hallowell, P. Harry Jennings, Martin
T. Joyce, George H. Lyman, Walter
R. Meins, John P. Moors, Everett
Morris, J. Nathaniel Perkins, Richard
H. Rice of Lynn, Mrs. Saverio Romano, Mrs. Francis E. Skittery, Daniel
A. Sullivan, Joseph M. Sullivan, Gen.
Loyd E. Sweetser, commissioner of labor and industries; William F.
Whiting of Holyoke, Robert F. Wight
and Robert A. Woods.

Replies to Gov. Cox's letter urging mayors of cities, selection of towns
and county commissioners to start needed public improvements to give work to the unemployed, were made public yesterday afternoon by H. A.
MacDonald, secretary to the governor.
The tone of the letters reveals the
fact that the governor's suggestion has borne fruit.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—While counting
of the strike ballots of 156,000 mem-

HARDING OPENS CONFERENCE OF NOTABLES TO RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT

NO LAW OF GRAVITATION LOWELL MAN GETS BACK HOUSE IN CANADA

Wilbur G. Voliva Demonstrates His Disbelief in Newton's Theory

ZION, Ill., Sept. 29.—With a book, a toy balloon, a brick and a feather, Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, last night demonstrated his disbelief in Newton's theory that objects fall because they are pulled by gravity toward the center of the earth.

"There is no such thing as the 'law of gravitation,'" declared the successor to Alexander Dowie, who recently proclaimed the world flat and had no motion, in an address last night in Shiloh Tabernacle.

"They write books on the 'law of gravitation,'" Voliva said. "There is no such thing. How is it that the law of gravitation can pull up a toy balloon and cannot pull up a brick?"

"I throw this book up. Why doesn't it go on up? That book went up as far as the force behind it, and it fell because it was heavier than the air. Cut the string of a toy balloon. It rises to a certain height, and then it begins to settle. I take this brick and a feather. I blow the feather. The brick goes up as far as the force forces it up through the air and then it comes down. That is all."

How To Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that only iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and apples, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalize wornout, exhausted nerves and give you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using it. Beware of substitutes. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every label. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form—Adv.

WOMEN'S CLUB OPENS MILLINERY CLASSES

The millinery classes for members of the Women's Industrial club of the Massachusetts mills, were opened last evening in the quarters of the club in one of the mill buildings, and the registration was greater than expected, for although it had been intended that the maximum of the class should be 20 pupils, 21 young women registered and all insisted that their names remain on the membership roll. Mrs. Bennett, who scored such a big success with the class last year is again in charge and it is believed that under her direction the millinery lessons will be very beneficial to the young women. Classes will be held every Wednesday evening until the latter part of December.

REGISTRATION AT LINCOLN SCHOOL
Another registration session will be held at the Abraham Lincoln school tonight at 7 o'clock. Classes include millinery, dressmaking, Americanization, elementary. The latter is proving popular among the registrants. It gives members an opportunity to brush up on all subjects, included in civil service examinations for the lower grades.

FIND BODY IN CLOSET

New York Detectives Hunt Couple Who Had Occupied Room

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Detectives today were trying to trace a couple known as Mr. and Mrs. Boulanger who, it is believed, lived for several days unwittingly in a room where the body of a young woman friend—murdered—had been stored.

The body, packed away in newspapers, was found last night in an unused closet of a lodging house room the Boulangers had occupied. A cloth gag had been tied into the woman's mouth with a white stocking. The date of one of the newspapers, Sept. 21, is believed to fix the date of the murder. The Boulangers did not quit the room until last Monday—four days later. Other lodgers said they thought the Boulangers had gone to Montreal.

The murdered woman was known at the lodging house only as "Mrs. Fay."

The proprietor told the police "Mrs. Fay" left the house last Thursday, saying, "Mrs. Fay" had fallen ill, and he had removed her to a hospital.

An autopsy today revealed that "Mrs. Fay" had been strangled with an apron string.

The autopsy, it was learned, showed that the woman would soon have become a mother.

FIND BODY OF VICTIM OF R-6 DISASTER

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 29.—The body of Frank A. Spalsburg of Powers Lake, N. D., electrician and member of the crew of the navy submarine R-6, which sank Monday night in the harbor here, was found yesterday by divers. No trace has been found of the body of J. E. Drefelin, also of the crew, who was drowned in the sinking. Spalsburg's body was found on the floor of the bay about 10 feet from the sunken submarine. Air was pumped into the sunken submarine last night and navy officials expected that it would be raised today.

CHINA'S DELEGATION ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

PEKING, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—China's delegation to the conference on limitation of armaments and Far East questions left this city for Shanghai today, on its way to Washington, intending to make the voyage across the Pacific on the steamer Hawkeye. Dr. W. W. Yen, foreign minister, who has been expected to be chief of the delegation, did not leave today, but it was said he would follow, provided China's Shantung policy was determined and initiated soon enough for him to reach the American capital for the opening of the conference.

If Dr. Yen should find it impossible to go to Washington, it is probable that Dr. Wang Chung-hui, president of the civil and criminal law conference, will be chief of the delegation. Three prominent Chinese diplomats were members of the party which left today. They were Chow Tzechi, former minister of finance and at one time secretary of the Chinese legation in Washington; Wang Ta-shieh, leader of the progressive party and former minister of foreign affairs; and Dr. M. T. Liang, former minister of foreign affairs and a prominent diplomat during the latter years of the Manchu dynasty.

The remainder of the party consisted of 22 technical experts, 19 secretaries, 19 attaches, 17 translators and several foreign advisers.

British Reply Reaches Dublin

ment could not alter its fundamental position, which was vital to the empire's existence. This position was that Ireland could not be allowed to separate from the British empire, but must base her propositions upon self-government as a member of the sisterhood of British dominions.

Text of Reply

GAIRLOCH, Scotland, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The text of Premier Lloyd George's reply to the latest note from Eamon de Valera, which was despatched to Dublin early today, follows:

"His Majesty's government has given close and earnest consideration to the correspondence which has passed between us since their invitation to you to send delegates to a conference at Inverness.

"In spite of their sincere desire for peace, and in spite of the more conciliatory tone of your latest communication, they cannot enter into conference upon the basis of this correspondence.

"Notwithstanding your personal assurance to the contrary, which they much appreciate, it might be argued in the future that the acceptance of a conference on this basis had involved them in a recognition which no British government can accord. On this point they must guard themselves against any possible doubt. There is no purpose to be served by any further interchange of explanatory and argumentative communications upon this subject. The position taken up by his Majesty's government is fundamental to the existence of the British empire, and they cannot alter it.

"The proposals which we have already made have been taken by the whole world as proof that our endeavors for reconciliation and settlement are no empty form, and we feel that conference, not correspondence, is the most practical and hopeful way to an understanding such as we ardently desire to achieve."

"We therefore send you herewith a fresh invitation to a conference in London on October 11, where we can meet your delegates as the spokesmen of the people whom you represent, with a view to ascertaining how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British empire, may best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations."

"I am, sir,

"Yours faithfully,

"D. LLOYD GEORGE"

Reply Received at Dublin

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press)—The reply of Eamon de Valera to the invitation from Lloyd George to meet at the Mansion House here at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon. It was read by Mr. de Valera and Arthur Griffith, foreign minister in the Dail cabinet, who were there awaiting it. A reply may be drafted today and placed before the Dail cabinet which will meet tomorrow.

The Sinn Fein leaders were agreeably surprised by the wording to Mr. Lloyd George's reply, and one member of the Dail cabinet expressed the view that public opinion in the conference being held was justified. A Dail minister said this afternoon:

"The reply certainly is better than we expected."

The general feeling here is that Mr. Lloyd George's invitation for a conference on Oct. 11 will be accepted. The whole temper of the Sinn Fein leaders appears to have changed for the better and optimism once more prevails here.

Fourteen countries will be represented in the conference, it was said. A secretariat already has been opened in Paris.

$30,000 Reward For Capture of Bandits

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 29.—A telegram was received today by post office officials here from Postmaster General Hays authorizing the reward of $30,000 for the capture of the bandits who held up train No. 5 of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad near here last night and robbed a mail car. The reward is in the form of $5000 for each of the six men who participated in the robbery.

Body of Keith Hanging From Tree

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 29.—The body of William J. Keith of this city, missing since Tuesday, was found this morning hanging from the branch of a tree on a wooded hillside, just east of Palmer, 12 miles east of this city. Medical Examiner J. P. Schneider pronounced death due to suicide. Keith had been in poor health for some time.

CAMPAIGN FOR A NEW JUDGE DE VRIES SPEAKS SENATE CLOTURE RULE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Backed by assurances of non-interference from President Harding, republican senators today renewed with fresh vigor their campaign for a new senate cloture rule to prevent filibustering and obstructive debate. The principal immediate task before the group of republicans advocating the change in time-honored senate procedure, was said to be conversion of a few prominent leaders, notably Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, floor leader. The proposed new rule was meeting with such favor among the rank and file of republicans, its sponsors said, that they hoped to obtain pledges from a large majority of the republican membership.

There are, however, a number of influential senators, including Senators Johnson of California, La Follette of Wisconsin and Borah of Idaho, who are opposed to the change. Their objections were said to be based on the ground that restrictions of debate by majority vote would deny a small minority the power to delay or defeat what they regard as vicious measures. President Harding's assent to the new cloture movement was reported to be grounded on the fact that the matter was one of senate rules, designed to expedite business and a matter for the senate itself to determine. The president, it was understood, agreed to a "hands off" attitude, although not opposing the plan.

ELECTED HEAD OF G. A. R. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 29.—Lewis E. Plicher of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected commander-in-chief of the 35th annual convention today. He succeeds William A. Ketchum of Indianapolis. Mr. Plicher is past commander of the department of New York.

Says American Standards

Must Be Basis of Financial Undertakings

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—American standards must be the basis of financial undertakings if America is to achieve world commercial leadership, according to Marlon de Vries, Washington, D. C., judge of the United States court of customs appeals, who addressed the national conference of State Manufacturers' associations today. "Other nations struggling to rehabilitate themselves, have adopted our American dollar as the standard; let us use it ourselves," he said. "Moved in an abiding confidence in the sufficiency and completeness of American institutions and American standards one is loath to believe that our system of revenues is so unimportant that its full measure must in any wise be dependent upon or in any wise controlled by foreign standards, foreign conscience, foreign peace or foreign prosperity."

HEAVY TRADING IN BONDS NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Continued heavy trading in Liberty and Victory bonds was featured on the stock exchange today by a sale of a block of Victory loan 4 1/2's with a par value of $5,000,000 at 92 1/2, slightly below yesterday's close. This is the largest single transaction ever reported on the stock exchange in Liberty or Victory bonds.

NEW ALTITUDE RECORD

Lt. MacCready of Dayton, O., Attains a Height of 40,800 Feet

DAYTON, O., Sept. 28.—Lieut. John A. MacCready, test pilot at McCook field, yesterday shattered the world's altitude record, attaining a height of 40,800 feet in the same Ja. Pere biplane used by Rudolph C. Schroeder, who set a record of 35,150 feet Feb. 25, 1920.

MacCready was in the air 1 hour and 47 minutes, requiring all but a few minutes of the total flying time to reach his mark. At 39,000 feet he formed on his oxygen tank, but he pressed on until the altimeter registered 40,800 feet. At this point his engine coughed and died. He then glided safely to the ground.

MacCready's new record is 2,650 feet higher than that of Schroeder, and in this flight the pilot suffered none of the hardship met by the former chief test pilot. Schroeder's eyeballs froze and excessive dilation of the heart kept him in a hospital nearly two weeks after the flight.

The flight made yesterday primarily was for the purpose of testing improvements made in the supercharger invented by S. A. Moss, who witnessed the flight, and also a new propeller of very high pitch, perfected by engineers at the Dayton field.

On landing, MacCready declared he suffered nothing but numbness. He

Barnes Strikes Ulmer In the Mouth—Injured Lawyer Freed of Theft Charge

DETHAM, Sept. 28.—Great excitement was caused in the Dedham district court before noon yesterday when Clarence A. Barnes, an attorney, struck W. Edwin Ulmer, a Brookline lawyer, in the mouth with his fist, knocking him over a bench.

Mr. Ulmer, who was later in the afternoon acquitted of larceny of $18,000 worth of materials from the Henry Woods' Sons' company of Wellesley, was defending himself. Mr. Barnes was representing the Woods company. Just before the noon recess the two lawyers met. Mr. Ulmer was standing beside his wife at the time, and as Mr. Barnes walked past him he suddenly swung his fist on Mr. Ulmer's jaw, cutting his lip, loosening some of his teeth and knocking him over a bench.

As Mr. Ulmer staggered under the blow several bystanders jumped between the two men and finally they were taken from the building through separate exits. As a result of the assault, Mr. Ulmer late yesterday afternoon asked Judge Clifford B. Sanborn to issue a bench warrant for the arrest of Mr. Barnes on the charge of assault and battery. Judge Sanborn told Mr. Ulmer that Mr. Barnes would want to be heard, and he asked him to come to court any day this week

TOWN MEETING

WARRANT IN WESTFORD

The warrant for the special town meeting to be held at Westford on the night of October 5 contains eight articles, which read as follows:

Article 1: To choose a moderator.

Article 2: To see if the town will vote to appropriate the sum of $500, together with a similar amount contributed by the county for the repairs of the Lowell road.

Article 3: To see if the town will vote to appropriate additional money for the use of the school department, over and over of the poor, and for the expense of forest fires.

Article 4: To see if the town will vote to borrow money for the erection of a schoolhouse in Forge Village and for equipping and furnishing the same.

Article 5: To see if the town will authorize the selectmen to purchase, take, or otherwise acquire, for school purposes, about three acres of land located at the junction of Plain and Oak Hill roads in Brookside, so-called, owned in part by Charles S. Edwards and in part by William C. Edwards or any other land in the vicinity of said Brookside.

Article 6: To see if the town will vote to erect a schoolhouse on the land to be acquired in the vicinity of Brookside and equip and furnish the same.

Article 7: To see if the town will vote to borrow $30,000 to meet the expense to be incurred in acquiring land in Brookside, erecting a schoolhouse thereon, and furnishing and equipping the same.

Article 8: To see if the town in

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—The industrial accident board has handed down a decision in the case of Mark Hassan, employee, the Boot mills, employer, and the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., insurer, which was heard in the aldermanic chamber, city hall, Lowell, Aug. 4, 1921. The question was one of incapacity. Hassan, the claimant, testified that he was injured on March 15, 1915, while employed as a card stripper in the card department of the Boot mills.

The board's decision was that the employee did receive an injury March 15, 1915, while in the employ of the subscriber. It is found that he is entitled to compensation for inability to obtain employment as a result of his injury from May 1, 1921, to Aug. 2, 1921, a period of thirteen and four-sevenths weeks, at $5.10 a week, an amount $88.56, said weekly compensation to continue in accordance with the provision of the law.

AFTER SPEEDSTERS

The police of Billerica have been notified by the selectmen of the town to observe conditions relative to fast auto driving through the town, particularly at Smith's corner in the North village, and to report any case of excessive speeding to Registrar Frank A. Goodwin at the state house. Warnings signs were recently posted at the four approaches to the intersection of Boston and Treble Cove roads, but these signs have been utterly ignored. The officers have promised to bring overspeeding at this spot to a stop.

LOWELL MOOSE MET

The regular meeting of Lowell lodge, 618 Loyal order of Moose, was held last evening in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, with Dictator Edward St. Leger in the chair. Several new members were initiated and plans were laid for an active membership campaign in the near future. Routine business was transacted.

STANLEY E. QUA

In nominating Stanley E. Qua for Justice of the superior court, Governor Cox has made a good selection. From his education, his careful legal training, his judicial acumen, and his high sense of justice, Mr. Qua is eminently fitted for the position. We congratulate him upon this high honor. It is also a merited recognition of the Lowell bar that had been expected for some time.

In his new and honorable position, we have no doubt that Mr. Qua will reflect credit upon himself and his city and eventually rank high among the eminent jurists of the Massachusetts bench.

OUR CITY CHARTERS

Students in civics, and particularly of city charters, lead us your ears. With the charter election but a few weeks away, the citizens of Lowell should devote some serious thought to the provisions of the new charter framed by a non-partisan commission of citizens and representing their best judgment as to the plan of local government best adapted to the city of Lowell.

For the benefit of the younger voters and those who were not in Lowell under the old charter which was abandoned when the present instrument was adopted, we shall here review the work of charter changes which brought us to the present stage in which we are called upon to decide between the present commission charter and that submitted by the charter commission.

The old city charter was modeled after the state legislative bodies with two branches and an executive, corresponding to the senate and house, together with the governor or chief executive of the state. The upper branch was designated the board of aldermen and consisted of nine members corresponding to the number of wards; but they were elected at large.

The lower branch after the increase in the number of wards effected in 1898, consisted of 27 members, three from each ward. Both branches had to concur on any action taken before it went to the mayor for his approval or veto.

In case he vetoed any measure, the council by a two-thirds vote could pass it over the veto; and this was frequently done when the council had a majority opposed to the mayor's political party; for partisan lines were drawn on many questions. It was a partisan government throughout, sometimes democratic, sometimes republican. When the voters got tired of one party, they put in the other and, although there was objection to this plan it was not without its advantages, for the reason that the party leaders had to shoulder the responsibility for the administration of their representatives in the council whether that was good or bad.

The chief objection to this charter was that it resulted in deadlocks which tied up the city's business. When either of the branches failed to organize because of contention over the filling of the principal offices, no business could be done. In one instance, one of these deadlocks prevented the common council from organizing for the greater part of a year. As a result, no business was done and no money voted during that time by the council; and hence the mayor and city treasurer had to raise funds as best they could to keep the department running. The most needy employees of the city were paid, but the school teachers and some others had to wait.

Although these officials had wonderful success in meeting the trying situation, the people began to talk charter reform and to plan changes in the charter that would eliminate the deadlocks. Partisan government was blamed for most of the trouble and it was very generally agreed that it should be eliminated.

There was also a proposition to have both branches merged into one so as to avoid the delay in securing a concurrent vote.

That was the state of mind of the Lowell electorate when the heralds of the commission charter came to tell of what it had accomplished in Galveston, Tex., after the tidal wave disaster. It did accomplish wonders there, and that was the very thing that deluded the people into the belief that it would work equally well in other cities and under normal conditions.

The people forgot that in Galveston after the disaster, the best and ablest men in the city were named on the commission and willingly accepted. Moreover, all the people, still over-awed by the stupendous upheaval of the ocean, stood ready to co-operate with the commission to the extreme limit of their power.

All were solidly united in support of the commission, working not so much to restore the old city or to re-establish former conditions, as to rebuild a new city. The things accomplished were magical and marvelous. In a few years it seemed as if a new city had risen from the ruins of the old. Every other American city stood amazed at what had been accomplished by the commission government in Galveston and in many of the cry of reformers went up in favor of the commission form of government. It was soon adopted at Des Moines, Ia., and some other cities, and for a time it gave fair satisfaction.

It was in 1910 that its adoption was advocated in Lowell and some very prominent men, including former President Eliot of Harvard, delivered addresses here in advocacy of the commission charter, dilating in eloquent terms upon the beauty of the new method under which five men would sit down at a table, like the directors of a bank, and with harmony and despatch transact the city's business.

Oh! that was a beautiful picture and it caught the town; but alas, how different the reality! The commission form of government was very good for small cities, but for such as Lowell, it has proved an utter failure. The commission charter was adopted by the citizens of Lowell in 1911 and it took effect the first Monday in January, 1912, so that it has been in force for ten years. In 1911 the tax rate was $19.50, and now it is $31.40. How the new charter worked, its leading defects, and the necessity of a change will form the subject of a subsequent editorial.

VOICE OF THE G.A.R.

Commander Ketchum of the Grand Army of the Republic in addressing the national encampment at Indianapolis, set forth the various ways in which the veterans must fight against every menace that threatens the safety or security of this nation. He made earnest reference to the recrudescence of the Ku Klux Klan, which had brought shame upon the country fifty years ago. He declared that the Grand Army stood ready to oppose every menace of that kind. Although bowed in years, the Grand Army would still stand firmly against every foe of the republic and in defense of the liberties for which they shed their blood in the Civil war and for which younger men in a later struggle offered their lives for the flag. In this connection the Grand Army may well recall Lincoln's memorable denunciation of a bigoted organization quite similar to the Ku Klux Klan although called by a different name. He denounced the organization for attempting to subvert the principle of the constitution that declares that all men are created equal.

"When it comes to this" (the discrimination against a particular sect or creed) he said, "I shall prefer emigrating to some country where they make no pretense of loving liberty—to Russia for instance, where despotism can be taken pure and without the base alloy of hypocrisy." The Grand Army is true to the flag and as it is mustered out and its last latitudes, its place will be well filled by the American Legion whose members are now in the prime of life and intensely loyal to the flag, to the cause of liberty and humanity.

WANT THE CAPITAL

In Moscow the soviet government offers 254 factories for lease by private capital. Twenty-six are gobbled at once. Foreign capital will take others, but not all.

What is going to happen is indicated by the frenzy of speculation in Moscow. Promoters crowd the street corners, offering stock in co-operative companies that will take over factories. Such co-operative societies will be many and plentiful in Russia, now that the soviets by their new policy, bid private capital take hold of industries which the Bolsheviks tried to run and could not without the aid of the detested capitalists whom they treated as criminals and robbers.

COST OF LIVING

Still the cost of living bothers most people; but things might be much worse than they are. They are vastly worse abroad than in this country. Prices have fallen faster in the United States than in any other country, which means that we'll get back to normal first.

The lower prices will make incomes go farther, and what is equally important, it will enable us to compete in world markets for trade. Deflation is unpleasant, but it is the only medicine that is good for what ails us at present. When it shall have reached the limit it has not done so already, then prices will be stabilized and business will begin to boom.

THE NICKEL FARE

The Boston Elevated is gradually getting back to the nickel fare on all the shorter routes, but even these are longer than any single fare route in Lowell. The longer routes on the Elevated lines are from five to eight or ten miles. It would be well if the Eastern Massachusetts company adopted a nickel fare in this city without transfer, outward and inward, with Merrimack square as the central point. It might prove to be a source of increased revenue as causing more people to ride.

In the Sixth congressional district, the republicans are still strong for the Harding administration as shown by the election of Col. A. Platt Andrews over Judge Pettit, the democratic candidate, by a majority that holds the same ratio to the democratic vote as was shown in the election of Louis Just November.

If, as alleged by the commission on the necessities of life, the one arm of the city is making 200 to 300 per cent profit on the food they serve, there should be a remedy. The overhead expenses do not justify such charges.

Alas! for the women who rushed to the hospital at the charge of manslaughter.

The tax revision fight is on in congress. Will it end in a draw like the tariff fight?

It was in 1910 that its adoption was advocated in Lowell and some very prominent men, including former President Eliot of Harvard, delivered addresses here in advocacy of the commission charter, dilating in eloquent terms upon the beauty of the new method under which five men

SEEN AND HEARD

The "Man About Town" column in The Sun continues to grow in popularity.

Men may come and men may go, but reticent guys are still considered clever.

Harding's numerous trips are a matter of habit; as a newspaper publisher he believes in a wide circulation.

"Peach crop is small this year"—news item. Probably nipped by the frost because of clothes shortage in spring.

Let 'er Flicker

He was unfamiliar with the domestic conveniences of town life. To his mates on Monday morning he confided that his Sunday dinner had been only half cooked because his wife could not get the oven hot enough. They told him about the advantages of a gas stove, and he had one installed immediately. On Saturday night, over a friendly glass, he enthusiastically about the gas stove. "We lighted her on Wednesday after the men had gone," he said, "and the darned thing hasn't gone out yet!"

A Pair of 'Em

A free-lance journalist found himself on a train without a ticket and decided to play the deadhead game. When the conductor appeared he told him that he had left his pocketbook at home, but that he was on the staff of the Daily News. "All right," said the official, "come forward to the next car. We've the editor of the Daily News aboard and he can identify you." There was no turning back, so the passenger followed the conductor, expected ignominious exposure, but to his great surprise the editor, looking up from his paper, said simply: "Yes, conductor, that's all right. The man is on my staff." When the conductor had departed the free lance undertook to express his gratitude to the great man for his magnanimous falsehood. "O, don't mention it," said the other. "You see, I'm not really the editor of this Daily News."

Boom Business

The times are hard? Well, maybe, so. They might be harder still, you know. It will not pay to fuss and fret; try all your troubles to forget—Boom business!

Just substitute a cheerful air. For that sad, hopeless look of care. Don't talk about your little ills; That will not help you to pay your bills—Boom business!

Be energetic as you can. And stir up every other man. To energy and harder work; You know it never pays to shrink—Boom business!

Start something right this very day. Don't wait for chance to show the way; And when it's started, push it through. As if the whole world looked to you—Boom business!

Don't wait for some one else to move; Your fitness for a leader prove. And then, of course, if you are wise You'll have the sense to advertise—Boom business!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

I ran across my old friend, C. H. Stickney, in Merrimack square this morning. Mr. Stickney, now 82 years old but in splendid health for one of his years, is one of the real veterans of the Civil war and highly popular in Post 120, G.A.R. circles, where he is a frequent and welcome visitor. The veteran is taking life easy. He wore a spic and span gray suit and a nobby gray soft hat this morning, and the cigar was ever present.

The Grand Army man, who is New Hampshire bred and some one calls that his home, really lives at 23 Dover street, this city. He was formerly a private in the ranks of the famous old New Hampshire Eighth Infantry, Volunteers, and served in various commands from 1862 throughout the war. In fact, the veteran never left the service until 1866.

Mr. Stickney, after hard service with the old Eighth, was promoted to a first lieutenant in the 54th Regiment, and saw tough service on the line all through the bloody Louisiana campaign. Later the Lowell man was appointed post commissary at Fort Hudson, and the war for him was over. He was clerk in the commissary department before getting the chief office. Lieut. Stickney attended the recent reunion of his old comrades in New Hampshire.

Saw Ed Hines, wide-awake manager of the John street market, yesterday morning for a few minutes. Hines just as enthusiastic as the Morgan boys and the Peiletters, and all the rest over the hunting season prospects. Hines is pretty fair with the old shotgun, and is acquainted with the fishing grounds up north, too. Ask him for good tips when you see him.

Word comes from Arlington that the Middlesex Sportsman's association has received about 5000 Anglering trout which has been placed in the waters of the southern county district covered by the association's field workers. Napoleon J. Hardy has charge of the good work.

The public market districts for country peddlers are not crowded these days. Yesterday there was but one market wagon on hand, and trade appeared to be slow although peddlers were selling for 30 cents a neck and fairly good apples (cooking) for 45 cents a large basket. There were no good eating apples displayed anywhere except upon the downtown fruit stands, and they were western or Canadian apples.

I wonder if Middlesex county farmers can produce any potatoes weighing two pounds and four ounces apiece? That is a Sherman, Maine, grower—you know—up where they grow them in old Ardenbrook county, situated at the head of the pond, H. S. Gallison, local manager of the Universal Title Power company on East Merrimack street, has just returned from Sherman, which is 25 miles from the "potato centre" of Maine, Houlton, bringing two handsome "flat" potatoes, each weighing more than two pounds. They are beauties. The potatoes were raised on the Gallison farm, which is now conducted by Mr. Gallison's brothers, William R. and Pearl E. Gallison.

Local music teachers, vocal and instrumental, tell me they never had so many pupils before, the list of candidates for regular teaching being larger than ever. One of the energetic teachers who tells me her "hands are full" this season is Mrs. Helen Hamilton Taylor, well known in local church and musical circles.

The Congressional church denomination is in need of more than $100,000 to provide more adequate salaries for clergymen all over the

JUST RESTING

Miss Ida Schnall's athletic prowess has won her nine cups and ten medals. How? Oh, basketball, baseball, track and field sports, swimming, diving. She's probably the champion all-around woman athlete of America. Here she is "resting" at Atlantic City.

ON FIFTH AVENUE

People of social prominence are now flocking to New York from vacation spots. Here's Craig Middle, Philadelphia sportsman, shopping on Fifth avenue. His suit, with long coat, buttoning high, and cuffless trousers, shows what is correct for men.

AUTOMOBILE BURNED

The alarm from box 815 shortly before 6:30 o'clock last evening was for a blaze in a Reo automobile on the farm of Thorndike Trull at the corner of Andover street and Clark road. The first piece of fire-fighting apparatus reached the scene of the fire two minutes after the sounding of the alarm, and the quick response of the members of the department prevented the flames from spreading to a nearby barn. The auto was badly damaged.

world, according to Rev. Dr. Charles E. Burton, secretary of the National council. He declares that the salaries of Congregational ministers have been increased 15 per cent, but there are still 51 per cent of ordained ministers receiving less than $1000 a year. Dr. Burton declares that many pastors actually need to be provided with "bread and butter," so meagre is the pay they are receiving. The "million-dollar campaign" may be expected soon, then.

Roger Shaw, son of Dr. Frederick K. Shaw, a prominent physician of Concord, Mass., this week began his first studies at the Lowell Textile school. Mr. Shaw, it is said, after four years' study here, will be taken into the American Woolen Co. organization, under President William W. Wood, who already has several young textile men training under his personal supervision. Dr. Shaw, the boy's father, is a personal friend of President Wood. The doctor has a fine war record during the late mix-up across the ocean.

CERTAIN RELIEF FROM BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

Simple Home Treatment Makes Breathing Easy

Just because you start the day tired, lifeless, worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of miserable Asthma—do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again, using this simple treatment known as Oxidase. The prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night and who gasp for a good, clear breath will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidase gives.

Oxidase is a tablet made from essential oils which when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by Lowell Pharmacy, Liggett's and Green's Drug Store, leading druggists who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first pack- age to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidase a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.—Adv.

When He Tried "Fruit-a-tives" or Fruit Liver Tablets

MOUNT BELKNAP HOTEL, LAKEPORT, N.H.

"At 70 years of age, chronic Constipation was causing me to suffer with distressing Headaches, Dizziness and Indigestion."

I believe I have taken more medicine than any half-dozen people in town; but nothing did me good until I tried 'Fruit-a-tives'.

Right away I could see their good effects. After taking them for three months, my bowels were regular, and the other ailments disappeared."

ACCIDENTS HAPPENING ON ALL SIDES

(Special to The Sun) BOSTON, Sept. 29.—No accidents are more easily accomplished in theory than in practice—at least that is the finding of the national safety council which is meeting for a week at the state house in an effort to devise ways and means of preventing accidents.

Accidents are happening on all sides, as they did before the Don't Get Hurt and Safety First campaigns began and some of these accidents are happening right at the no-accidents convention.

One woman delegate, leaving her hotel to go to the state house to take part in reform work, slipped on the stairs and was so badly hurt that she had to stay in her hotel room nursing her wounds rather than debate accident prevention.

The section of the convention that seeks to prevent accidents in public utilities corporations had an unfortunate happening yesterday. They had secured room 222 at the state house, the judiciary committee's room, for two mornings this week, in spite of the protests of the regular occupants of the room, the commission to revise the banking laws.

Then the no-accidents reformers proceeded to smoke cigars, dropping ashes and butts on the floor. When their no-accident session was over it was found that a hole had been burned in the beautiful carpet in that room. Apologies were forthcoming, but they did not repair the accident.

In another section meeting yesterday an accident occurred. A lecturer was explaining how dust explosions might be prevented but instead of preventing an accident, he caused one. Chemicals and dirt went flying through the air and the poor lecturer made an exit much bemused. As he passed from view he was met with taunting cries of "Have you met with an accident?"

While it is too early for full returns, persons following accident data during this, no-accident, week predict that the average of accidents will be cut down but slightly, if at all.

COURT WANNALANCIT

At a recent meeting of the members of Court Wannalancit, M.C.O.F., the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Chief ranger, Mary K. Daley; vice chief ranger, Bartholomew Dunn, recording secretary, Mary Garvey; financial secretary, Arthur J. Rousseau; treasurer, Patrick S. Ward; senior conductor, Ruth Conlin; junior conductor, Mary Welch; inside sentinel, Helen Walsh; outside sentinel, Margaret McManus; delegates to the high court, Patrick S. Ward, John Daley, Michael Welsh, Gabriel Audoin; trustees, Mrs. Thomas H. Murphy, Mrs. Michael Welsh, Mary McGrath. In the course of the meeting it was announced that a whist party will be held on Friday evening, Oct. 7, and that on Thanksgiving eve a social gathering of some sort will be conducted in the town hall. The newly elected officers will be installed at next month's meeting.

Grafton, Pa.—"I was troubled with inflammation and pains in my sides and back. After doctoring with different doctors and not getting relief, I had almost given up when my sister told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and knowing that she had really been helped by it, I purchased it. I was unable to do my work at that time, but after taking several bottles of the Vegetable Compound I can now do anything about the house or farm that a woman should do. I have a four-month-old baby that is the healthiest and biggest baby for his age that I have ever seen. I am willing for my letter to be used for a testimonial to tell other suffering women how much your medicine has done for me, as I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all the praise."—Mrs. BLAIR L. FISHER, R.D. 1, Box 37, Grafton, Pa.

Working early and late—lifting, carrying, and the heaviest of household duties—is a wonder that it results in backache and kindred ills. But every woman who suffers as Mrs. Fisher did should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem You Know It!

THERE'd be mighty little movement leading forward to improvement, There'd be mighty little progress we would make, If we always stood in terror of committing any error, If we wouldn't risk the chances of mistake; But the wise grow clearer-witted by the failures they've committed And they don't persist in errors very long, And you'll find, in any season, they will always bark to reason And will cheerfully admit it when they're wrong!

WHEN you've learned to know your weakness, when in humbleness and meekness

You can see the fault that led to your distress, Then you're gaining useful learning and you'll find your footsteps turning Toward the pathway that leads onward to success.

You'd be one of nature's wonders if you made no foolish blunders, You'd be much too good for any human throng; When you're right be duly grateful—for to boast of it is hateful— But be quickest to admit it when you're wrong.

MANY friendships have been broken through some hasty phrases spoken Which the speaker was too stubborn to retract; Many hearts are torn asunder through an unadmitted blunder When confession of an error would be tact;

Since to err, they say, is human, every man and every woman Will find life a smoother road to move along, And existence somewhat fairer if, in all this world of error, They will honestly admit it when they're wrong!

SPAIN CALLS OUT LAST CLASS TO PUT DOWN MOORS

The Moorish rebels are causing Spain more military trouble than that country has had since the war with the United States. Here rebel scouts are watching the maneuvers of the Spanish from a mountain outpost. The last class of the Spanish army has been called out. Rich and poor are going, but they are serving with little enthusiasm.

THE RAILROAD

FREIGHT YARD

Years ago the railroads of the country adopted the flag man, and the crossing gates, as their most effective method of keeping people out of the track of a passing train.

The problem of the freight yard, however, is one that cannot be reached by this method, and while the safety engineers of the Massachusetts roads have steadily reduced the accidents that occur to trespassers, there is still need for public co-operation in this matter.

Children are the ones most frequently injured. They are sent to the freight yards by their parents in the summer to get ice from the ice trains, and in the winter to pick up pieces of coal.

During the past 24 years 31,049 children have been killed or injured in the United States while trespassing on railroad property.

If 31,049 children should stand in 13

rows, each row would be a mile long.

Your duty as a parent to your children, if your home is near a railroad, is to warn them:

Not to frequent railroad yards.

Not to walk on railroad tracks.

Not to throw stones at trains.

And having done this, make certain that the warning is heeded.

Lever Bros. Co.
Cambridge, Mass.

Gentlemen:

We have tested Lux and find it is ideal for washing Van Raalte Silk Underwear.

It dissolves so quickly and thoroughly that it is impossible for any bits of solid soap to lodge in the delicate silk threads to discolor and weaken them.

We find that washing Van Raalte Silk Underwear in the mild Lux lather actually makes it wear longer and we are recommending it to our customers on this account.

Very truly yours,

An Easy Way for Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

Strong, Straightforward Advice to Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women

If you are thin, scrawny and underdeveloped, if your face is peaked and your cheeks and neck exhibit unsightly hollows, if it is almost certain that your nervous system is at the bottom of the trouble. You can eat three, yes, four, substantial, fat producing meals a day but as long as your stomach has an insufficient supply of nerve force this food you eat will pass out of the body with little if any benefit.

In order to assimilate properly the nourishing food you eat and convert it into healthy tissue and fat the nerves that control the process of digestion and assimilation must be put in first-class shape and until that is done you might just as well quit trying to put on flesh. Your system is starving for something that will turn the food you eat into healthy stay-there flesh and it can only be done in one way—by correcting faulty nervous digestion.

Thin, nervous, run-down people, however, with impoverished blood and half starved looks are hailing with delight a quick and certain maker of solid flesh called EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES that is unequalled for repairing faulty digestion and correcting nervous digestive troubles. In fact the makers of Evans' Triple Phosphates guarantee that one month's treatment will increase your weight by several pounds and within ten days make you feel like a new being, full of ambition, vigor and a desire to accomplish things.

Frederic Howard and leading druggists everywhere have agreed to supply Evans' Triple Phosphates and guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it or money refunded.

Caution: White Evans' Triple Phosphates Accomplishes wonders in nervous digestive troubles and as a general nerve tonic, it should not be taken by anyone who objects to a few additional pounds of solid, stay-there flesh.—Adv.

I Was Bald

Found True Hair Grower

A well known business man, John H. Brittain who in earlier years was in the old Indian Territory has certified to the following, notably:

"I was bald a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, ointments, and hair restorers. I then across to my travels I saw a man who had a head of hair that I had longed for. I saw him and I was so struck by his hair that I gave him a trial. To my amazement a hair grower appeared. I had been bald for years and now I have a head of hair. I am now a healthy man, and my hair is growing as fast as it ever did."

"My head at the top and back was balding. An expert said that as I was balding the roots were dying. I had been bald for years and now I have a head of hair. I am now a healthy man, and my hair is growing as fast as it ever did."

"I came into possession of the product for restoring this hair, and I was so struck by its results that I had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. What my own hair growth is, I cannot say. It has been simply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported amazing results from KOTALKO."

KOTALKO, a true hair grower, contains genuine hair-oil and other potent ingredients, prepared according to the Indian's original principle, from the Three Kingdoms of Nature.

KOTALKO, the genuine, is sold by 20,000 druggists everywhere in America; also by mail. FREE. A proof box of KOTALKO will be mailed, postpaid FREE, with book on the hair, if you send only 10 cents, silver stamps, to pay for this book and mailing to Kotalko Office, B.P. 25, Box 24, New York.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES AT GIRLS' CITY CLUB

With an attendance of more than 70 girls, the first registration preparatory to the opening of the vocational classes at the Girls' City club was held last evening. Fall work will start October 20 with classes in dressmaking, millinery, handicraft and home hygiene and care of the sick, the latter class to be given under the direction of the Red Cross and taught by two of the school nurses, Miss Dwyer and Miss Frazier. Dressmaking will probably be taught by Miss Eleanor Kilian.

and Miss Mae Kelly will supervise the millinery work.

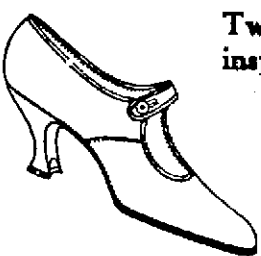

Other registration classes for the vocational work of the club, which is given under the direction of the Lowell Vocational school with Miss Esther M. Downing, director of the home-making department of the Vocational school in charge of the conduct and progress of the classes, will be held soon, it is announced.

Adding Miss Alice Sullivan and Miss Downing in the registration work last evening were Miss Helen Ryan, treasurer of the Girls' City club, and Miss Anna Egan and Miss Elizabeth Sullivan.

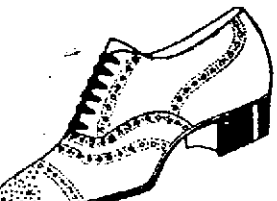

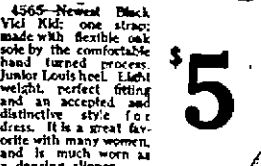

A new tank, recently demonstrated in France, will cross trenches, swim on the surface of the water, and then dive and crawl along the bottom.

WISHES FOR SUCCESS OF ARMS CONFERENCE

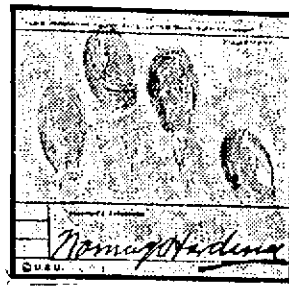

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Representatives of two religions—Christianity and Buddhism—conveyed to President Harding today their hopes for the success of the armament conference. Dr. John H. Finley, former state commissioner of education of New York and a committee representing the federal council of churches, Christ in America, calling to express their hopes, asked the president to designate Nov. 6, the Sunday preceding the meeting of the conference, as a day of special prayer; to suggest to the churches of America that services be held coincident with the assembling of the conference Nov. 11; to issue a proclamation to be read by the pastors in all churches Armistice day, and to use his influence to have sessions of the armament conference opened with prayer. The committee members said the president received their suggestions favorably. Speaking for the Buddhists of Japan, Archbishop Sektzen Aral, abbot of the Buddhist temple of Sojiji, told Mr. Harding members of his religion in Japan were extremely hopeful for the success of the armament negotiations. The archbishop who made a special trip to America to convey his felicitations to the president, called at the White House clad in his religious robes and was presented by members of the staff of the Japanese embassy. In reply to his message, Mr. Harding sent his thanks to the archbishop's coreligionists in Japan.

TEACHERS MUST NOT WEAR SHORT SKIRTS

LYNDHURST, N. J., Sept. 28.—Longer skirts and no silks or satins—this is the latest order to teachers issued by the Lyndhurst school board. The ban had been placed on expensive materials. It was explained, because most of the pupils came from families of moderate circumstances. If teachers wore silk vestments, pupils might feel obliged to do likewise.

HARDING'S

Defectives have finger-printed President Harding! Of course it was "just for fun" at a meeting of the National Association for Identification in Washington. During 1920, 18,431 flights were made in the work of civil government flying under the direction of the Canadian air board. In order to move a 55,000-pound water tank at Engle, N. M., it was jacked up and a track built under it.

PLAY PRESENTED AT COLONIAL THEATRE

"La Voleuse d'Enfants" is the title of the five-act drama which was presented before a large and appreciative audience at the Colonial Theatre in Middlesex street last evening by the members of Cercle National, a well known organization composed of French-speaking amateur actors of this city. It was the first appearance of the members of the troupe this season and if one is to judge by the success achieved last evening, it is fair to assume that it will not be the last. Each part was well sustained, the scenic effects were artistic and the affair as a whole was very satisfactory. The story of the play deals with a 12-month-old baby girl, who is stolen from her crib by professional baby thieves. The mother, who is not living with her husband, is charged with the theft and despite the fact that she denies her guilt, she is found guilty and sentenced to 20 years at hard labor. Twenty years later mother and daughter are reunited, but not until both had gone through a series of adventures. The play ends in a little romance in which the daughter plays the important role and the conclusion is a happy reunion. In the part of the mother Miss Yvonne Falardeau, who on several previous occasions has demonstrated her ability on the local stage, has once more shown that she is able to handle a leading part. Her work was very commendable. She was ably assisted by Albert Bernard who made a decided hit as the lover. The others, who took part in the play and who deserve a goodly share of the credit for its success are Charles Forget, J. R. Monette, Alfred Germain, Albert Lachance, Omer Ducharme, Joseph Adams, Miss Lea Morest and Miss Bernadette Tremblay.

In the course of the evening excellent musical numbers were given by an orchestra, while between the acts Miss Yvonne Falardeau and Mr. Geo. Labranche entertained with comical duets. Miss Gertrude Paquette was also very pleasing with her violin selections.

The officers of the circle are as follows:

Albert Bernard, president; Omer Ducharme, secretary-treasurer; Thos. Rochette, director and Joseph Adams, manager.

False Claims.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

False claims may kill, but false claims can never restore your child.

For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been aiding in the reduction of the deaths among infants as Mothers have become more and more acquainted with it. Always keep it in the house.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Mothers Must Use Care.

Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants.

Your druggist may not keep an imitation but they are to be found on drug-store shelves. Reliable druggists think only of the welfare of their customers. The other kind only of the greater profit to be made on imitations.

Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture.

Your same good judgment must tell you that these irresponsible imitators are trading on your credulity and the reputation built up by Mr. Fletcher, during all these years, for his Castoria.

Ten Cents Will Do It

Catering to a fussy appetite with foods that please the palate, but do not nourish the body, is expensive business. It depletes the purse and lowers vitality.

Shredded Wheat

is all food—every particle of it is converted into rich blood and healthy tissue. Two Biscuits with milk and some fruit make a nourishing meal at a cost of not over ten cents. More nutritious than meat or eggs and costs much less. Ready-cooked and ready-to-eat.

For a warm, nourishing meal heat two Biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness and pour hot milk over them, adding a little cream and a dash of salt. Nothing so strengthening and satisfying—and the cost is only a few cents. Delicious with fresh or stewed fruits.

FEDERAL ACTION IN POISON FLOUR CASE

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—An investigation to determine the source of poison in a bag of flour sold to Concord, N. H., which caused the illness of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Mudgett of that city, has been undertaken by federal authorities. Dr. George H. Adams, chief of the local food and drug laboratory of the United States department of agriculture, announced today that he would endeavor to trace the flour back to the mill.

APPROVES ATTORNEY GENERAL'S STAND

The Lincoln club, through its secretary, Edgar M. Kent, has sent the following letter to Attorney General J. Weston Allen, commending his stand on civil service acts:

Sept. 27, 1921.

Dear Sir: The Lincoln club of Lowell, through the board of directors, most heartily commends your recent action against the violators of the civil service acts. The time has arrived when public officials must be compelled to respect the laws of the state and sustain, rather than violate for personal benefit, the laws of this great commonwealth.

ADDS NEW COURSES

That the Lowell Continuation school which opened with the public schools on Sept. 12 is gaining in favor, both with the pupils and with the employers is evidenced by the fact that two new courses have been added to the curriculum for this year, according to Thomas A. Ginty, director. Six hundred boys and girls are now enrolled in the classes and, although this is less than the number attending last year, it is expected that the attendance of 1922 of last season will be reached as soon as more normal labor conditions are reached.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Outside financial dealings by high officials in the New York city police department were investigated yesterday by the Meyer legislative committee. Evidence was introduced that Police Inspector John F. Dwyer bought a six-apartment house in the fall of 1920 for $154,000, and that the same year one of the patrolmen working under him on Staten Island received $70 a week from the attorney who handled the papers in the realty deal.

MEANS OF OBTAINING SUPPLY OF COAL

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Means of obtaining an adequate supply of anthracite coal at reasonable prices this winter were discussed at a conference here today of attorneys-general of the New England states and New York. The stand to be taken with regard to tax legislation passed recently by Pennsylvania, which it was asserted probably would add 50 cents a ton to the retail price of hard coal, also was considered. The conference, which was private, was expected to continue through the day.

CHARGE ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL

John Dracoumanos and George Kouroukianos, each charged with assault with intent to kill, were allowed a further continuance to next Saturday. The case has been pending since August 22. The alleged assault, in which, according to police information, guns were used, took place on Market st. on the night of Aug. 20.

BATTLE IN TIPPERARY ONE KILLED, FOUR HURT

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Conflict between civilians and police in Tipperary last night resulted in the death of one of the civilians and the wounding of two other civilians and two policemen. It was announced in an official report from Dublin Castle today. Lialson officers are holding an inquiry into the incident.

FAMINE SITUATION IN VOLGA SERIOUS

MOSCOW, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The famine situation is so serious in the Volga region that American relief administration work in Russia has announced that the children fed by his organization in Petrograd will be limited to 15,000. It has been made necessary so that more food shall be afforded the Volga district where the village children, Col. Haskell says actually are dying of starvation.

FEAST OF ST. MICHAEL

The feast of St. Michael was observed this morning with a special high mass at St. Michael's church. The service, which was attended by a large number of parishioners, was held at 8 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by the children's choir.

STOCK MARKET

The following is a complete report, giving high, low and closing quotations:

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Bulls and bears were in demand at the opening of today's stock market, and the general list showed firmness. Chicago & Northwestern and Texas & Pacific gained, while Union Pacific, American Woolen, General States Rubber and United Fruit. The bond market gave promise of another active session, especially for Victory notes. The first sale of Victory 4 1/2's consisted of a block of $750,000 at 99.45 to 99.45, as against the recent high record of 99.50.

British Government Makes Gift of Guns to Be Set Up at Plymouth

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—Two ancient cannons used in England about the time the Mayflower sailed in 1620 were deeded to the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company at exiles at the navy yard today. They are the gift of the British government and will be set up in the old fort which is being restored on Burtin Hill, Plymouth, in connection with the tercentenary of the Pilgrims' landing.

HOLD-UP STORY A FAKE

Clerk Says He Thoughtlessly Left Safe Open and $4100 Disappeared

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 29.—From the office of the American Railway Express Co. in this city this morning came a statement that Night Clerk John Chamberlain had admitted he was not held up early last Saturday when $4100 was taken from the safe in the company's office. It was added that Chamberlain further admitted he thoughtlessly left the safe open Friday night and the money disappeared when he stepped out of the office. The holdup story was intended to account for the loss.

HEAD DRESSES THAT ENHANCE EVENING COSTUMES

FROM LORD & TAYLOR

By MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—No use trying to trace the influence of the new head dresses for women.

The most ornate, the most Oriental, the most barbaric, well—the most anything superlative, characterizes the newest imported splendors, to perfect the evening costumes of my lady.

Jewels and feathers alone are no longer enough. Combinations astounding in their gorgeousness are the mode.

One evening barrette shows a band of red velvet studded with diamond-encircled rubies, while a larger ornament of the same stones holds a drooping red willow plume in place.

The barrette has still another place extending over the top of the hair. These evening head dresses, of course, come in all colors from jade-green to black.

The chaste Greek knot is still good, one modification showing beautiful clusters of berries. Spanish combs, not to be cast aside by the newer imports, are shown in all sizes and conditions. One exquisite comb is of finely wrought silver and brilliants.

who have not entirely forgotten the joys a Christmas doll brings to the heart of a little girl is extended a cordial invitation to visit this veritable paradise at the new hospital, 225 Merrimack street, Room 20.

VALUE OF PERSONALITY IN INDUSTRY

"The value of personality in industry," was the topic of a lecture delivered by Herbert Stetson, staff engineer for the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, under the auspices of the Lowell Society for the Promotion of Industrial Science at the Y.M.C.A. last night.

Mr. Stetson dwelled at length on the importance placed on personality at the present time by industrial men as compared to the disregard with which it was looked upon years ago. He defined personality as being "that which enables us to get along with others," and told of the great value it proves to industry in general and how industries disregarding its culture lose in the end.

Your do not have to be a mere youth to cultivate personality, the speaker said, "you can still develop personality when you are 35 or 40 years of age. Analyze yourself, but don't ask yourself, 'Have you got a job?' but put this to yourself, 'I have a man for a job.'"

"Knowledge of the job you are concerned with is important, but not as important as personality," said Mr. Stetson answering a question as to what constitutes an industrial leader.

"You can't lead a man without helping him and making a better man of him, and you can't make a better man of him without making a better man of yourself. The greatest reward, life can pay you is the respect and confidence of your fellowmen," thus he closed his lecture while receiving lengthy applause from the large audience present.

SENATE DEBATE ON TREATIES

Sen. Kellogg, Republican, Only One to Speak—Democrats In Caucus

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The senate is to continue its debate on the new peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary at a session tonight, but unless more interest is displayed than was the case last night, when a session was held under a gentlemen's agreement for debate only, republican leaders are expected to press for an early vote. Only 42 senators answered the roll call last night at 8 o'clock. A half hour then elapsed before any one took the floor and after Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, had spoken in support of the treaties for an hour and a half, the debate was taken.

Action was expected to be speeded up, however, by the democratic caucus today when a final course may be decided on the treaty question. It has been indicated that as a result of an earlier caucus this action will not be blinding as a party measure. Many democrats, it is understood, will oppose the treaties, as will Senator Borah of Idaho, and possibly a few other republicans.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. George Leo Collins and Miss Anita L. Collins were married last evening at the Sacred Heart rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O.M.I. The bride wore a georgette trimmed with silver, veil caught up with pearls and carried a large bouquet. She was attended by Miss Florence Sabourin, who was attired in pink satin and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Harry F. Collins. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father, 30 A street, and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their home at 15 Otis street.

BERARD-MELANCON—Mr. and Mrs. Melancon were married at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at Notre Dame de Lourdes rectory by the pastor, Rev. Leon Lamothe, O.M.I. The bride wore white duchess satin trimmed with pearls and a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a large bouquet of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Melancon, a sister of the bride, wore pink georgette with large picture hat to match and carried a large bouquet of roses. The best man was Mr. William Berard. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 274 Chelmsford street, and later the couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York and Washington. Upon their return they will make their home at 274 Chelmsford street.

BRANCHES—DEPONT—A wedding of great interest in the Pawtucketville and Centralville sections took place yesterday afternoon when Mr. Sylvio P. Deschamps of Essex street, Centralville, and Miss Denise Depont of Moody street, Pawtucketville, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed at St. Joseph's rectory by Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I. The bride was handsomely attired in brown crepe with picture hat to match and carried a large bouquet of American beauties. She was given away by her father, Mr. Armand Depont, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Pierre Deschamps. At the close of the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride, 765 Moody street and later the happy couple, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts left on a honeymoon trip to New York. Upon their return Oct. 4 they will make their home at 765 Moody st.

Coburn-Elger—A charming autumn wedding took place last evening when Miss Agnes M. Elger, a charming young lady of the Christian Hill district and Mr. Percy H. Coburn, a well known young resident of this city, were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Percy H. Warren, 59 Twelfth street in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Karl P. Meister, pastor of the Centralville M. E. church. The wedding march was played by Miss Ruby Coburn. The house was attractively decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The bride was attended by Miss Anna G. Quinn, an intimate friend of the bride, while the best man was Mr. George Baldwin. The bride looked charming in a gown of georgette, her veil being caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore orchid tulle with silver lace and carried white roses, a wealth of gifts notable for their beauty and utility were received by the happy young couple. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Coburn left on an extended wedding trip to Canada and after Nov. 1 they will be at home to their friends at 59 Twelfth street.

MASS NOTICE—There will be a month's mind mass of requiem at St. Patrick's church Saturday morning at 8 o'clock for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Mary Leakey Coughlan.

NOTICE Of Special City Election
Tuesday
OCTOBER 15, 1921

CITY OF LOWELL
Election Commission's Office
Notice is hereby given in accordance with the Provisions of Chapter 384 of the laws of 1921 and amendments thereto, that a special city election will be held Tuesday, the 15th day of October, 1921, at the polling places established in the several precincts of the different wards, the polls to be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. to vote on the following question:
"An Act to Amend the Charter of the City of Lowell," to be accepted by
J. OMER ALLARD, Clerk.

LOWELL TEAM WINS FROM HAVERHILL

The Lowell fire department baseball team defeated the Haverhill fire aggregation in Haverhill yesterday afternoon, the score being 8 to 4. The game was very interesting throughout and much of the credit for the winning of the game is due to Symonds, who occupied the box for the Lowell players and Connors, who did the receiving.
The Lowell players left the Central Ave station in Middle street at 12:30 o'clock and accompanied by about 50 fans made a very enjoyable trip to the city. In the latter place they were well received by their brethren. At the close of the game the guests were entertained at the Haverhill central station, where supper was served and cigars were passed. At the close of the supper there was a social gathering. Mayor Flanders and Aldermen Martin, Munson, Bartlett, Chief J. B. Gordon of the fire department, Deputy Chief G. M. Whiting, Capt. W. V. Marston, Capt. E. A. George, Capt. Miles, Lieut. W. S. Hume, Empire Ryan, and several others had narrow escapes from injury today, when a gasoline explosion damaged to the extent of $10,000 the two-story brick block occupied by the Bath Steam Dye house at 155 Front street.
Douglass, whose clothing was burned off, was rushed to the hospital in a serious condition. Miss Elizabeth McKay, the only other occupant of the place, escaped unharmed.
The first explosion was followed by two others after the arrival of the firemen. Chief Engineer Charles E. Parks was blown down a waste hole and Assistant Engineer Scott Morse was blown some distance. Neither was injured beyond cuts and bruises. A wooden addition was lifted into a V shape and the roof split. All the windows and frames of both floors of the block were blown out. The cause of the first explosion was unknown.

reached the premises the flames had spread to adjoining buildings and were making rapid headway towards the house. The lack of water in the district proved a big handicap to the firefighters, who were unable to save any of the buildings. While the flames were ravaging the barns, members of the Malle family as well as women and children rushed the furniture to a place of safety, for it was evident at that time that the house could not be saved. Several horses and cows, which were in one of the stables, were led out to safety and only a calf perished.
The property was built over a hundred years ago by the Cheever family and was considered one of the oldest, if not the oldest, building in the town. From the Cheever family it passed into the hands of the Stickney family, and about seven years ago it was purchased by J. A. Malle, who since that time had improved it considerably. The cause of the fire could not be learned.

TEACHES IN CHINA

Miss Eva Melby of Madison, Wis., has left for Foochow, China, to become a member of the faculty of the Anglo-Chinese college there.
Whipple, before court arraignment, was secreted by Captain Akkman and inspectors, and denied the story told by Watchman John Joyce. He said he was walking along the street outside of the mill structure when suddenly the watchman came open the door and hit him in the face with a shovel. He said he knew of nothing else until he found himself in a cell later. He denied having entered the mill.

Two Firemen Blown Some Distance by Explosions—All Windows Blown Out

BATH, Me., Sept. 29.—Herbert E. Douglass, the proprietor, was terribly burned, and several others had narrow escapes from injury today, when a gasoline explosion damaged to the extent of $10,000 the two-story brick block occupied by the Bath Steam Dye house at 155 Front street.
Douglass, whose clothing was burned off, was rushed to the hospital in a serious condition. Miss Elizabeth McKay, the only other occupant of the place, escaped unharmed.
The first explosion was followed by two others after the arrival of the firemen. Chief Engineer Charles E. Parks was blown down a waste hole and Assistant Engineer Scott Morse was blown some distance. Neither was injured beyond cuts and bruises. A wooden addition was lifted into a V shape and the roof split. All the windows and frames of both floors of the block were blown out. The cause of the first explosion was unknown.

man's story, as told to the superintendent and later repeated to the police, at the sight of the watchman started to run in the direction of the stairway. Joyce gave chase. Both men ran to the street door, where Whipple made an attempt to open the door leading out on to Davidson street. He succeeded in unbolting one lock but before he could unfasten the lower bolt, the watchman was in sight. Whipple, afraid of being caught, opened the gate leading to the basement, and fled into the cellar. Joyce chased him into the boiler room, where a fierce encounter took place. The watchman states that Whipple put up such a hard fight that to save himself and to make sure the former would not get away, Joyce seized a shovel and struck Whipple in the face.

A watchman in a nearby mill hearing the screams of the two men telephoned the police. Joyce and Whipple in the meantime and was awaiting the arrival of the officers. Sergeant McManmon and Officer Sherry went to the scene and placed Whipple under arrest. He was ordered to appear in court at 10 o'clock. When the court was informed of the early morning occurrence he ordered the accused held while an investigation would be made. He was then placed under $300 bond. Later in the morning, however, when more details were learned an additional charge of destroying property with malicious intent was lodged against him and bail was set at $500. He was unable to secure bond and was locked up at the station.

In court Whipple presented a pitiful appearance. His face was covered with cuts and bruises and he appeared to have been engaged in a fierce physical battle. His hearing was also apparently affected. He was unable to hear the judge and clerk and to him and an officer had to shout in his ear what was being said to him.

Cracked by Jar of Building Operations.

As a result of the sewer backing up a few days ago and flooding the cellar of the Parker block, in Middle street, an investigation by the sewer department showed a serious condition to exist in the 12-inch main in City Hall avenue. Emergency work which will involve quite a sum of money, was begun today to repair the damage and to the sewer to properly carry on its work.
It was found a great portion of the main had become cracked, the result of work done on the new Harrisonia hotel building, according to Commissioner Murphy and City Engineer Kearney.

It will be necessary to lay at least 75 feet of new pipe at once to remedy the trouble, is Mr. Kearney's opinion. An order will be introduced into the municipal council tomorrow asking for an appropriation and permission to carry on the work.
This sewer is one of the most important in the city as it drains parts of Merrimack and Middle streets, also taking care of much of the business section.

The exact cost of the work cannot be determined at the present time for further examination may find the conditions worse than first expected. The work, however, will entail a great deal of labor at the sewer at this point is about 14 feet deep.
It has been noted for some time past the sewer was not working properly and efforts have been made to rectify conditions. A week or so back, after a heavy rainfall, it was found the cellar of the Parker block was flooded in some parts to a depth of five feet.

City Engineer Makes Report

Solution to Problem

Mr. Kearney's solution to the problem is as follows: A solution of the present difficulty, whereby the contractors can continue their work and at the same time carry on traffic is to open the outboard rail for the street railway cars only, open up
